Deep-Rooted.

The other day a man went to the doctor with his jaw much swollen from a tooth which he desired to have pulled out. But when he got into the chair, and saw the gleaming forceps, positively refused to open his mouth. The doctor hit upon an effective scheme, however. He got his office boy to jag the patron with a pin, and when he opened his mouth to yell, he grabbed the tooth, and out it came.

"It didn't hurt you as much as you expected it would, did it?"
"Well, no," replied the man, hesitatingly; "but," he added, placing his hand where the pin had jagged him, "I didn't think its roots went so far down as that."

At a Scotch fair a farmer was trying to engage a lad to assist on the farm, but would not finish the bargain until he brought a character from the last place; so he said:

"It'll get it and meet me at the cross at four o'clock."

The youth was up to time, and the farmer said:

"Well have you got your character with you?"
"Na," replied the youth, but I've got a rooster, and I'm no cumin'."

A. B. De Huent, editor of the Journal, Dylvestwa Oles, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by F. W. Hall Mds Co.

A church in Levenworth, Kan., has obtained a circuit court judgment against the Chicago & Great Western Railway Company for having disturbed the Sunday services of his congregation by continually shifting freight cars near the house of worship.

DAHLONEGA'S RAPID GROWTH.

Improvements Amount to Near $240,000 Within
The Past 18 Months.

Fine Churches, School Houses and Hotels.

The rapid progress Dahlonega has made within the past eighteen months is a surprise to all. Nothing like it was ever before known in the history of the country. People are flocking here from every section. The boom is here and is a permanent one. Northern capitalists are spending thousands of dollars here every month in the development of our gold mines, which has brought about this wave of prosperity, and it will keep moving.

The amount of money expended for churches, schools, houses, hotels, dwellings, mills, machinery and other improvements since first of August 1898, aggregates something over $238,250, as follows:

Bostwick Hall, $6,856,
College dormitory, $1,800,
Baptist church, $2,600,
Presbyterian church, $1,500,

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Menkley, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie Bedford county, Pa. For sale by F. W. Hall Mds Co.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) druggist called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to the neighbors and friends and he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MARCH 2, 1900

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The populists are called to meet in Atlanta on April 10th for a state ticket.

The grand jury of Dawson county did not think enough of the dog law to even mention it in their presentments.

A bill has been reported favorably in congress providing for the payment of southern cotton claims. About $10,000,000 are involved.

The publishers, building at the Paris Exposition will be decorated with busts of Benjamin Franklin, Horace Greeley, George W. Childs, Charles A. Dana and Joseph Medill.

A bill has been prepared which will be introduced in the legislature of Kentucky this week, asking that a reward of $100,000 be offered for Governor Goebel's slayer.

Some of our exchanges are publishing what Congressman Tate has been doing in an official manner, which means that the wood is being put under the political pot and it will soon commence boiling.

Advertising is a great deal like eating. You cannot eat a very large meal and expect to go with out eating again for the next week or ten days; neither can you advertise successfully by using a medium one issue and then dropping out of sight three or four issues. —Merietta Journal.

It is believed by some of the democratic papers that the republicans and populists in the 9th will fuse and put out a candidate for congress. It is said that Col. H. P. Farrow, of Gainesville, has received many solicitations by prominent citizens to make the race again, but he declines doing so.

There is a convincing lesson for the farmers of the south. Thirty-million dollars more money has been received a year ago for 11,250,000 bales. There should be needed no stronger argument than this against farmers losing their heads and increasing their acreage for a record breaking crop next season. —Augusta Chronicle.

The state militia of Georgia aggregating 4,000 men, is to be uniformed at once and for the first time in the history of the militia the bill is to be paid by the state. The cost of providing complete uniforms for five regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry, two battalions of naval militia and two batteries of artillery will cost from $25,000 to $80,000.

Ex-Chaplain Wells of one of the volunteer regiments that saw service in the Philippines, says that previous to the American occupation there were only three liquor saloons in Manila, but that now there are more than 400 such places in that city alone, and many others in the suburbs where the American soldiers are stationed. To judge from the chaplain's talk, the Americans in the Philippines divide their time about equally between fighting the Filipinos and drinking. —Ex.

A company has already petitioned the court of Banks county asking to be allowed to establish a telephone line commencing at Cornelia, Habersham county, Georgia by and through Baldwin, Hollingsworth, Silver Shoals, Homer Maysville, Gillsville, Belton, Lula, Gainesville and any point in Hall county, also to Jefferson, Jackson county, Harmony Grove and to all points in said county that they may desire, and also Danielsville, Madison county and to all points in said county that they may desire also to Carnesville Franklin county and all points that may desire in said county, also to Clarksville, Habersham county and to all points that they may desire in said county, also to Cleveland, White county and to all points that they may desire in said county. The principle office to be in Hollinsworth, Ga.

We are informed that another crowd of some fifteen Ohio capitalists will be here about next Monday.

The company owning the Briar Patch mine has employed Mr. Bruce to take photographic views of the property to be used in their prospectus.

The property of Christian Wahl, of Milwaukee, Wis., near Auraria, is being operated under the supervision of J. F. Bruce, who has been engaged for some time in cutting a long tunnel in order to strike some veins.

The survey for the tunnel through the Blue Ridge by the Consolidated G. M. Co. has been completed and measures 1,200 feet. This will enable the Company to secure all the water necessary at a much less expense than to bring it from the Chestate river.

H. Miller, of Ohio, who in Dahlonega some days ago, was down again this week. Mr. Miller is a member of the Consolidated Co., who seems very much impressed with the mining interests of this country, and his return so early may mean that he has an eye on some other property.

The water, which was turned in to the Hand canal several days ago is moving on slowly, having burst some of the weakest bands on the tubes, which are strengthened as fast as it is necessary and the water moves right along. At last accounts it had reached the Grizzle tube doing some little damage there.

Mr. Whorton, owner of the Calhoun mine, was in Dahlonega the other day. He has been absent from his mine for more than a month on account of the sickness and death of his mother in Atlanta but he will be able now to give his operations his personal attention. The Calhoun is an excellent mine and pays well.

The Singleton mine has been sold for a large sum of money, being purchased by J. W. Adams, president of the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co. This property lies just across the Yahoola creek adjoining the Hand mine and is one of the best mines in the county. We understand that the size of the present ten stamp mill will be largely increased.

A. D. Greenfield, of Albany, Ga., was registered at the Hall House last Wednesday. Mr. Greenfield has purchased all the property in Lumpkin and Dawson counties belonging to editor F. M. McIntosh of that city, some of which has already proven to be very rich. One lot adjoins the celebrated Betz mine in this county. The deal embraces about one thousand acres.

Hon. J. W. H. Underwood, of Cleveland, Ga., was down for a few hours the other day, and while here showed us a beautiful nugget of gold in the shape of a plow weighing something over eight pennyweights which was recently found at the Richardson mine in that county. The Colonel will use it as a watch charm and wear it when he attends the miners' international convention.

L. K. Donovan, of Delaware, O., who is interested in the Crown Mountain gold mine, after a visit of several days here, returned to his home first of the week. Mr. Donovan was accompanied by a couple of other gentlemen who also came to look over the gold fields of this section, going away apparently well pleased with what they saw. The company has recently bought the Seabolt shoals, some thirteen miles distant in the upper portion of the county to be used for mining purposes, which will be commenced at an early day.

The mill at the Longtreet mine in White county commenced operation some eight or ten days ago, and the plates are said to be showing up well. Messrs. E. P. Sholl, of New York, and W. A. Danforth, Boston, both interested, came from the north a few days ago to make an inspection of the operations, who, after remaining a short while, went away well satisfied with things generally.

Capt. Ingersoll, general manager of the Consolidated Company's mines, went over to Union county last Monday to secure the rights of way from two or three parties for the ditch which is to be cut so as to convey the water of the Woody creek, we believe they call it, into the Hand canal which runs to the Dahlonega Cos. big plant. Only a two mile ditch besides the 1,200 foot tunnel is required.

There are at Cornelia ten tons of gold ore ready to be shipped to Charlotte, N. C. The ore was hauled by wagon from the Eureka mines, situated about thirty miles distant, and is to be shipped to a smelter at Charlotte. The Eureka Mining Company is composed of owners who reside in Canton, O., and they are confident that they can make a good profit out of their mine after hauling the ore thirty miles by wagon and then having it sent to the North Carolina smelter. Samples of ore from the new mine assay from $2 to $26 a ton, and as this is the first shipment the outcome will be watched with interest. —Ex.

The carpenters and machinists down at the Hand mine are moving along with their work as well as can be expected. Though the delay in the delivery of lumber on account of the bad roads somewhat retards the work of the mechanics, as more workmen could be added and better progress made if they could get the material as fast as it is desired. The underground and all other work is moving along all right, and it is expected that every thing will be ready in the near future for President McKinley to touch the button and start the machinery of this big plant to moving, provided the proper connections can be made.

We copy the following paragraph from the Macon Telegraph, which was written by a Dahlonega correspondent last week, showing that others see the mining situation as we do and corroborates what we have frequently said recently: "Within the last two years three largely stocked mining companies have been organized here. The oldest the Consolidated, composed of Ohio capitalists, began with a capital stock of five million dollars. This company, which at first sold stock at 15 cents on the dollar, is now receiving par value. There is another company called the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Company, with Gen. Warren at the head, which is stocked at $2,000,000. The Chicago and New South Company, recently organized has a capital stock of two and one-half million dollars, and will soon begin work. No one can form a just estimate of the immense amount of work being done in these old hills, unless he makes a personal inspection. The machinery for separating the gold from the sulphurets astonishes even the old miners of Dahlonega."

Quite a number of northern capitalists have been here during the past few days, among them being several members of the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., recently organized for the purpose of working the Briar Patch and other valuable properties in this county—a charter having already been applied for. The owners reside in Chicago and St. Louis, and expect to spend fully $150,000 in a short while in the operation of the valuable property. All are well pleased with the outlook. Vice President Disney in talking to a reporter of the Atlanta Constitution the other day said: "After prospecting on the property for a number of months I am firmly convinced that the gold fields of Georgia are richer than the Klondike. Our party has already made a number of thorough tests and we are satisfied beyond a doubt that the yield of the mines will exceed our most sanguine expectations. The members of our party are enthusiastic over Georgia mines. Several came here prejudiced against the mining property of the state, but are now firmly convinced that Georgia has not an equal in the union for gold of a very superior quality. There is unusual activity in gold mining in the northern part of the state and several stamp mills are to be put in operation within a very short while."

If you want to keep posted about our mines send $1.00 and get the NUGGET twelve months.

A little negro in Macon swallowed a nail the other day which caused its death shortly afterwards.

The little baby which was recently left on the Southern train at Rockmark in a basket was carried to Atlanta, named Mary Bryan and sent to the Home for the Friendless.

The Cedartown Standard classifies the eight classes of town killers as follows: First, those who go out of town to do their shopping and have their job printing done; second, those who are opposed to improvement; third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and enterprise; fourth, those who imagine they own the town; fifth, those who desire public spirited men; sixth, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with them; seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not appear to benefit them; eighth, those who seek to injure the credit or reputation of individuals.

Have You Heard Of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palatable that almost everybody can take it. Nearly all children like it and ask for more.

SCOTT'S EMULSION looks like cream; it nourishes the wasted body of the baby, child or adult better than cream or any other food in existence. It bears about the same relation to other emulsions that cream does to milk. If you have had any experience with other so-called "just as good" preparations, you will find that this is a fact. The hypophosphites that are combined with the cod-liver oil give additional value to it because they tone up the nervous system and impart strength to the whole body.

Some of the editors of the weekly papers are exchanging their space for rye liquor.

Kentucky will be practically without a state government until all contests are decided, neither state government can obtain any money.

For some time the Atlanta papers have been full of Bryan news. Now that the distinguished visitor has come and gone they will drop back and discuss the depot question again.

A negro at Pleasant Hill, Ga., shot and killed his mother while they were following the corpse of the husband and father to the grave Tuesday because she wouldn't stop crying.

The following is related of a remarkable hen owned by a North Georgia man. The hen is fourteen years old and has laid 3,000 eggs up to date. Of this number she has hatched out 1,000 chickens and has raised 800 of them to the full maturity of hen and roosterhood. —Ex.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MONDAY 2 1900

Farmers can sell any kind of produce in Dahlonega at good prices.

Try some Boston biscuits, crumbed in milk to be found at the Consolidated Store.

The weather man has been very liberal for some time in dishing out a variety of it.

Keep your eye on Dahlonega and watch her build up when the weather becomes settled.

We understand J. F. Sargent, the present tax collector, is thinking of running for ordinary.

You see no idle industrious hand loafing about Dahlonega now. Every body can get work that want it.

It is reported that D. E. Evans of Gainesville, is going to purchase a lot in Dahlonega and erect a large livery stable.

You will find New Home Sewing Machines at the Consolidated Cos. Store. All the way from $24 up to $85.

The Hall Commissary is the place to buy everything you need at as low prices, if not lower, than any other store in town.

Lumber is still scarce and will be as long as the roads continue as bad as they are now, causing a big draw back to those desiring to build.

A gentleman in Dahlonega received a letter from Ducktown the other day saying that they wanted 600 hands to work in the copper mines at that place.

The big demand for produce in Dahlonega during the past year is going to cause more of our farmers to have an eye to this matter during the coming season.

Both W. J. Hightower and C. W. Moore were housed up last week with a severe attack of the grip. Mr. Moore is on foot again and Mr. Hightower is getting better.

Lumpkin county will be pretty well represented in the criminal department of the U. S. court in Atlanta, but we are glad to say not by as large a number as some of the adjoining counties.

Look at our new list of subscribers on first page. They came from different parts of the country both far and near, which shows that people everywhere are becoming interested in what is going on here.

The college cadets fired the cannon on Washington's birthday and undertook to raise the flag for the first time on the Bostwick Hall but the rope would not work and they had to postpone the matter till some future time.

Mr. Bloomer, the editor of the Toledo News, who has been spending several weeks in Dahlonega left this week for a short trip to Florida, but will return to Dahlonega again before he leaves for the north.

The kind of subscribers we want to the NUGGET is persons who, if they do not pay in advance, can hand us the change any time we call on them. However, it is always best to pay in advance. Then you can read the paper with more pleasure.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle left for Atlanta last Sunday with several prisoners who has been caught while blockading. They ride down at the expense of Uncle Sam and will enter a plea of guilt and go to jail and eat free hash for a few months.

A few days ago we had a cold wave, which was followed by a warm wave among some of the boys who used too much liquor, resulting in several of them being brought before the Mayor last Monday night, but as one's name was not docketed for fear it would get into the paper, we publish none. Justice is delt out in a strange manner in Dahlonega.

Mining leases for sale at this office.

Don't forget that Anderson & Jones receive a new lot of cloth in each week.

The NUGGET office is the place to get your job work done in style and upon short notice.

Why go to Gainesville or Atlanta for clothing when Anderson & Jones will really sell you cheaper?

Look on our fourth page if you desire to see the list of unreturned wild lands which is advertised to be sold in June.

We repeat what we have often said, that all advertising fees must be paid in advance. Please bear this in mind and it will save you trouble and any delay.

The electrician is going right ahead with his work and by the time the water reaches the plant through the Hand canal he will have everything ready to give the company electric lights about the works.

Read the report on the first pace of the rapid growth Dahlonega has made in the last eighteen months. Dahlonega is now one of the most prosperous places in upper Georgia and building up as if by magic almost.

Frank Jones has recently purchased the Alex Wheelchul lot opposite Mrs. Tilda Findleys, and a lot of material has already been received to erect a dwelling on the same. Frank is a single man but this movement causes some to believe that he has an idea of taking in a partner for life.

The revenue officials have been thinning out the blockaders in this county recently. Latter part of last week collector Richardson and Marshal Grizzle destroyed two large distilleries and captured two men and two boys—being W. T. Howell, Wm. Deney, J. R. Arrendale and L. C. Peck, who were bound over and carried to Atlanta.

Two or three of them were strangers, claiming to be from North Carolina. They are now in Atlanta jail a long ways from home.

Moore & Bro. came near losing a span of horses last Friday over on the Findley ridge by them falling into a ditch. Some parties were driven over to look at Crown Mountain property when the team was left in charge of a little colored boy until they walked about some, who let them get too near the ditch, causing one of the horses to fall which pulled the other in, where they remained until a sufficient force could be secured to pull them out. If the animals are not hurt internally they will soon be all right again.

The other night L. B. Walker, who resides in Yahoola district, just did wake in time to save his building from being destroyed by fire. Before retiring some hours previous he built a big fire, which caught some things hung before the fire place. It gradually caught the floor and end of the house above the fire place, which soon reached the clock, but fortunately woke the occupants when it fell. Several chairs were destroyed and everything else being close to the chimney. This was certainly a narrow escape.

It turns out now that Mary Perry, of this county, who was reported dead in Tennessee a few days ago is still alive. Recently a letter was received by Mrs. W. C. Perry, the mother of Mary at this place from one who signed his name as Collins stating that Mary was dead but would be kept out for fifteen days so as to allow her relatives to send for her remains. In this letter was a few lines by Mary supposed to be written by the woman before her death, what disposition she wished made of her child which was in the care of Mrs. W. C. Perry. Some four or five dollars were registered to Collins with a request that her body be sent to Dahlonega at once. In a few days the return card was received at the Dahlonega post office signed Collins by Mary Perry. Dead people can't write and this gave the whole thing away.

Go to the Consolidated Store and see what a nice line of dress goods, ladies tailor made skirts and waists just received.

Advertise in the Dahlonega paper that has the largest circulation and will do you the most good. Isn't this a fair proposition?

It looks very much now like Dahlonega will soon be talking to Cleveland, Cornelia and many other places above here by telephone.

One of the prettiest line of goods in town can be seen at Anderson & Jones. All the latest patterns and prices, lower than the others.

The old Wimpy store house on the public square, owned by F. H. Breymann, of Toledo, O., will be torn down and we expect, but do not know, that a brick structure will take its place.

Charlie Rice came near losing one of his eyes the other day while out hunting, by discharging his gun which had nixed in the muzzle. Most of the powder came out at the tube, burning his face and eye fearfully.

It is said that we will have a bank in Dahlonega before the end of the present year. This of course will not amount to anything to a country editor, but will be convenient to all business men who handle money.

The other day a horse belonging to Mat Wood ran into the dam at the Findley mine with the wagon and died before it could be gotten out. John, the son of Mr. Wood, came near losing his life while trying to save the horse.

The pupils at the graded school gave a very interesting entertainment on Washington's birth day in the way of speeches and declamations. Several visitors were present and enjoyed the program which was carried out to perfection, very much.

J. H. Moore, has purchased the stock of goods of F. M. Williams & Son and will hereafter run his market and sell groceries at their stand. John is an energetic citizen and we bespeak for him a good trade for he is sure to treat all his customers right. Look out for his ad. in the NUGGET soon.

F. M. Williams & Son sold on their mercantile business for the purpose of beginning a new industry in this county, being a dairy farm. They purchased sufficient land from W. C. Crow, less than three miles from Dahlonega, the other day and will commence business at once—already having several cows. A wagon will be run from the farm once or twice a day so as to supply their customers with fresh milk and butter. It strikes us that it will pay, for often a pound of butter can not be found in our market at any price.

A few days ago J. S. Newkirk, of Brunswick, Ga., was making arrangements to move to Dahlonega and open up a market and grocery store, but he failed to get the only store house there was to rent, which was let to another person before he had time to close the trade, leaving him with no building in which to begin business and he had to decline. Two other parties were also coming from that city could they have secured buildings in Dahlonega. We hope that enough houses will be built here during the spring to accommodate all who wish to locate in our prosperous city.

As so many are interested in the pension business we copy the following paragraph from the Macon Telegraph's Atlanta correspondent so that they may know what to expect: "Pension Commissioner John W. Lindsey will sit closed doors all the week commencing tomorrow, so as to get ready to commence paying off invalid Confederate veterans a week from tomorrow. He has about concluded the payment of pensions to indigent Confederate veterans and to widows of Confederate veterans. The third class—the indigents will come next as soon as the office doors are reopened for business."

Any one wishing to purchase a suitable lot for a livery stable can get it by calling at this office.

Prof. Gaillard has a curiosity at his house in the shape of a tailless calf which made its appearance last week. When will Dahlonega's curiosities cease?

Some of the lovers of strong drink are now sending off to Cincinnati 20r rye liquor labeled "12 years old." This denotes that money is plentiful here.

J. H. Bullock died in Macon on the 9th ult. The deceased was the husband of Mrs. Sarah A. Bullock, a daughter of Geo. W. Walker, Sr., of Porter Springs.

Remember that you can get 100 invitation cards at this office nicely printed for the small sum of fifty cents. One dozen blank cards at other places will cost you 10 cents.

J. V. Harbison had to remain in doors several days last week nursing a lame foot which got badly mashed by a falling piece of timber out at one of the tubes on the Hand canal.

The jubilee to be given by the citizens of Dahlonega to show their appreciation for the great benefits done this section by the large amount of money expended by the Dahlonega Consolidated Co., is going to be the biggest day our city has ever had. Every body and their cousins will be on hand—and the crying babies too.

A man by the name of Black stock who lives in Pickens and works at the Hand mine, got a letter from home the other day, telling him to come at once because his wife had presented him with four new babies. He left and went in a hurry, which was the proper move, for no one can make a support for a family increasing this fast and work in the gold mines at 80 cents a day. This unfortunate man will have to look up some better occupation.

Richardson Bros. Minstrels gave two excellent performances at the court house in Dahlonega last Friday and Saturday nights to a crowded house both times. The court house never had more people in it—even during a murder trial—than were on hand these two nights. Everybody enjoyed themselves. Husbands forgot their scolding wives and wives ditto. There was not a single dull act. The entire audience laughed from the beginning to the end, causing them to forget the attack of grip most of them had been grunting around with for more than a month. The audience was composed of all ages, sorts and sizes from seven year old children up to people whose backs were bent with old age. And last but not least nothing occurred during any of the acts to shock the modesty of the most refined lady, a minister or even a country editor.

The night watchman's time expired last Wednesday evening. We do not know whether his services will be retained or not. At first it was made his duty to watch for fire while our citizens slept. A short while afterwards it rained a good deal and it was decided that the horses were too damp to burn and the watchman was put to looking after the streets with instructions to look for fire only of dry nights. As every one knows but little street work can be done of a wet time, and it was almost like throwing away money to pay $25 a month for a watch on such conditions. Besides it was more dangerous, because our citizens were unaware of any such arrangements and went to bed thinking that their property was under the watchful eye of the one who was appointed, when he was at home asleep. The watchman is not to blame, but the city council. Either have a watch put on duty regularly or dispense with the expense of such services and inform the citizens so they can do as they have always done. A damp time has nothing to do with it. Remember that the Wimpy block on the lot now owned by Dr. Jones was burnt up one night when the ground and houses were covered with a three inch snow.

Capt. Ingersoll is making some nice improvements about his premises.

Our young friend, Eli Jones is now clerking at the Hall Mide Cos. Store.

Dr. Cravens was called home one day this week by a dispatch to attend his wife's sisters funeral.

Two of J. V. Harbisons children are quite sick, Miss Carrie and little Mammie, the latter being seriously ill.

Our merchants have thousands of pounds of freight at the Gainesville depot, accumulated on account of the bad roads.

Ike Reed had the misfortune one day this week to lose his pocket book containing a lot of money. The pocket book once belonged to his grand father and was over one hundred years old.

A drummer, while in town the other day haying samples of elder and Peruna for sale, confessed that some of the latter was put up expressly for intoxicating purposes, as well as some of the elder.

Every farmer who came to town with produce last Tuesday was strictly in it, for corn in the ear sold from the wagons at 65 cents cash, meal 65 and sweet potatoes 65 while the blockaders juice was in demand at $2.00 per gallon. Peruna went at the same old price.

Before another issue of the Nugget appears Frank L. Reese will have received his goods and doing business. He will be located in the lower story of the Masonic Hall, where he will be pleased to receive a share of the patronage of the citizens of Dahlonega and surrounding country.

One day this week it was reported that 35 hands had struck down at the Hand, but it turned out differently. As only four who worked in the shaft stopped out. They had failed to celebrate Washington's birthday and two of them came to town and got on a "bender" and will have to pay out four or five dollars as the result.

A dispatch from Chattanooga dated Feb. 22, says: "It is learned here officially that the Seaboard Air-Line is having surveys made for the construction of a branch line 50 miles to take in Dahlonega and Clarksville, Ga., connecting with the main line of Chattanooga, Augusta & Charleston, a projected railroad backed by the Seaboard."

As stated in a former issue of the NUGGET the trustees of the college donated a sufficient amount of money to purchase the instruments for the organization of a brass band by the cadets and secure a teacher. The instruments have already been received—ten in number, and a teacher will be procured in due time to train the boys so they can play at the next commencement.

Thos. J. Turner, who resides in Chistate district, was down one day this week with a load of sweet potatoes which realized him sixty cents per bushel. Tom was accused of making a little mountain dew recently for medical purposes and people especially who suffer with toothache, and now has a case booked against him in Atlanta, who, if proven guilty, will find that there is more profit in the production of potatoes than blockading liquor.

The other day one of the clerks at J. F. Moores purchased a nice coop of chickens from a farmer, every one being hens he said except one, which were retailed at the usual price for hens—25 cents, going like hot cakes until the coop was empty. After a while the customers commenced returning with them saying that they were not hens but only combless roosters, usually worth only fifteen cents. Our friend Newt DuPree purchased four of them with the intention of going into the poultry business but soon afterwards they all commenced crowing, causing him to keep one in the yard, put one in the pot and carry the other two back. It was quite a joke on the clerk, for the farmer had already received his pay and left out.

The other twin baby of John Barker died Wednesday night.

Irish potatoes sold from the wagons last Wednesday at 95 cents per bushel.

Merchant J. F. Moore was absent a day or two in Gainesville this week on business.

Now is the time for our farmers to bring their products to Dahlonega if they want to get a fair price for it.

Last Wednesday the houses, trees and ground contained a sheet of ice while it was very dark and cloudy, not representing the "Sunny South" in the least manner.

February just past was one of the most disagreeable and coldest months we ever experienced, being only a sun shiny day now then, frequently looking as if we would have a wood famine in Dahlonega.

While making out our list of improvements made in the last eighteen months we omitted those made by J. H. Moore and Perry Anderson on the first page, being $800 more—Johns improvements costing $200 and Perry's cottage $100.

C. M. Head, residing in the stock law section, captured a goat running at large some days ago which no one will claim. If the owner doesn't appear pretty soon Mr. Head will likely have to start up some kind of a secret order in order to make the animal pay for its feed.

Francis Seabolt, who resides at the foot of the Blue Ridge and raised the most and biggest turpins of any farmer in the county last year, was in Dahlonega this week with a four hundred pound porker which brought six cents a pound. He doesn't live in the stock law section.

A railroad man was recently in Dahlonega looking over the country to see if it would be a practical route to build a road by way of Clarksville and Dahlonega to connect with the main line of the Chattanooga, Augusta and Charleston road. The indications seem to point now that he did, judging from the present movements.

"Boy" Thomas seems to have a good deal of trouble about his two horses. Some time ago he hired one of them to a man named Birch for a two or three days trip and it was several weeks before he ever heard from the animal and when he did it had been left a way out in Murray county, causing him a good deal of trouble and expense to get it home. So last Saturday another fellow made a call for both of them. His name was Winn, a mechanic who had been at work on the Presbyterian church who said that he wanted the horses and buggy to make a trip down to Murrayville after some clothes, to return probably that night or the next day. But neither horses nor man came back on time, and Mr. Thomas sent his son Harry, out to search for them who had gotten word that the man had been seen making his way towards Dawson county. The young man followed on and found the horses away off in the woods alone where they had run the buggy against some saplings and were unable to go farther. Here they had been without any feed or water for about two days and nights. Winn was found at another place together with some other parties around a jug of liquor having a big jubilee. Harry swore out a warrant for Winn but as the crime was committed in Lumpkin Dawson officials wouldn't have any thing to do with it and the last heard of Winn he left out for Gainesville. It seems that Winn was joined by Mrs. Tarescic Owens after reaching her house and the two left for a little outing. It is reported that at one time a keg and three or four jugs were seen in the buggy. When Winn got full the happy couple had a dispute during which time it is reported that the woman shot at her companion twice and then footed it back home. This is the news we receive from the scene by grapevine telegraph. So the old saying of every sweet has its bitter is true.

SHERIFF SALES OF WILD LANDS.

Will be sold before the court house door in the town of Dahlonega, between the legal hours of sale, on the first Tuesday, in June, 1900, the following lots of land in Lumpkin county, to satisfy various f. fas. issued by J. F. Sargent, tax collector of said county, for taxes on unreturned wild lands for the years 897, 1898 and 1899, to-wit:

Hard Times.

The cry of hard times will be heard just so long as our people send west for hay, corn, flour, meat, lard and other like necessities.—Sammerville News.

The Marietta Journal replies as follows:

The "cry of hard times" will last longer than that. Christ said, the "poor you will have with you always," and as long as there is poverty there will be the "cry of hard times." When a boy we heard the people say, these were "hard times," and when we grew to manhood the same sad wail greeted our ears. Human beings are grumblers and faultfinders, and some people would cry "hard times" if they had filled barns and big bank accounts. Men, well-to-do, if some misfortune overtakes them, in their disappointment, cry "hard times." It becomes contagious, and somebody else repeats it, and this has a tendency to make people feel that they must draw their purse strings tighter, and "hard times" stalk in. But today the south is more prosperous in all lines of commerce, and industry than at any period since the late civil war.

Queer Medical Test of Death.

A recent report of experiments at the Academy of Medicine in Paris gives astonishing testimony of the virtue of rhythmical twitching of the tongue as a means of restoring life in cases of drowning asphyxiation. Within the past few months there have been at this hospital 40 such cases of resuscitation by this one means.

Some of the statements made by M. Laborde of the Academy of Medicine in connection with this report are of exceptional interest. In one case a drowned man was resuscitated only after three hours spent in unintermittent twitching of the tongue. Which is certainly a reminder to physicians that this remedy is one that requires patience.

Definition of Home.

Recently a London magazine sent out 1,000 inquiries on the question "what is home?" In selecting the classes to respond to the question it was particular to see that every one was represented. The poorest and the richest were given an equal opportunity to express their sentiment. Out of 800 replies received, seven gems were selected as follows:

1. Home—A word of strife shut out, a world of love shut in.
2. Home—The place where the small are great and the great small.
3. Home—The father's kingdom, the mother's world and child's paradise.
4. Home—The place where we grumble most and are treated the best.
5. Home—The center of our affection, round which our heart's best wishes twine.
6. Home—The place where the stomachs get three square meals daily and our hearts a thousand.
7. Home—The only place on earth where the faults and failings of humanity are hidden under the sweet mantle of charity.

Heavy Fine For Delinquents.

A certain Missouri editor, says Pointers, who is evidently out of patience with the non-paying subscriber, has given notice that hereafter the subscription price of his paper will be $5, if paid in advance, or $5 if not paid in advance. He says the man who expects to pay for his paper is willing to pay in advance, and the man who does not expects to pay has no right to object to the $5 price. He argues that by this method, if there be any who do not pay in advance, they will owe him enough to justify him in bringing suit. It is understood the brother has no copyrights on this plan, so that all are free to get in line on the newest scheme to break even with the deadbeat subscriber.—Newspaperdom.

The Murdered Guide.

A Youth was traversing the Valley of Life.

And his mother employed for him a safe guide, whose name was Conscience, to pilot him across.

Pretty soon the Youth wished to venture into inviting by paths regardless of Conscience, but the faithful guide warned him of dangers at the end of these seemingly pleasant ways.

Presently Conscience, to save the Youth, was forced to chastise him. And the Youth grew wroth and felled the guide to the earth and left him by the roadside for dead.

Pursuing his journey he came to a fork of the road and there ahead stood Conscience, who urged him faithfully as ever to take the right way.

But the Left seemed fairer and the Youth persisted.

Conscience wrestled with him and the Youth slew him and buried him.

Then he went on. And the road was beset with dangers.

And the Youth returned to the grave of the old guide.

But it was overgrown with poisonous weeds called Remorse, which suffocated him with its breath.—Fort Valley Leader.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MARCH 9, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Three hundred negroes left Athens last Sunday for the west.

Two Atlanta clerks, W. L. Atkins and Edward Brooks, fell out about a match one day last week, resulting in the latter being shot dead by the former.

T. T. Harris, formerly of Dahlonega, now of Columbia, S. C., was wedded to Miss Mamie Lee, a daughter of T. M. Mork of Gainesville on Tuesday evening of last week.

Hon. John T. West, who has been publishing a populist paper down at Hon. Tom Watson's home, has discontinued the publication and turned over all his patronage to his democratic contemporary.

The price of cotton is higher now than it will be next year as the increase in the price will cause farmers to plant more than usual, causing the price to grow less leaving producers "head over heels" in debt.

John H. Sook, Jr., of Atlanta, admitted to stealing $1,477 from the Kimball House the other day. This is big enough amount to cause him to get lookkeepers place or some other easy position in the penitentiary.

Twelve cows of William E. Rowe, near St. Michaels, Md., produced last year 3600 pounds of butter, which sold for $870. The milk, fed to hogs, brought enough to pay all the expenses of the cows, the calves being thrown in for good measure.

There arrived in Marietta the other day a wagon from North Carolina, loaded with shrubbery, spruce pine and fir bushes, and cabbages, which were offered for sale. The father and son were in charge of the team and drove 100 miles, and had been on the road seventeen days.

Miss C. Flanagan, who murdered E. Ruth Black and Mrs. Nancy Allen in 1896, died in DeKalb county jail last Tuesday. He had been convicted of murder and sentenced to death three times, but his attorneys interfered and saved him so far at an expense of ten thousand dollars to DeKalb county. Those who commit the most horrible crimes seem to escape death the longest.

Gentlemen, treat the candidate kindly. He has sorrows enough without an unkind word from you. Take whatever he offers without stopping to spit. And don't hide your feelings from him; tell him frankly you are going to support him, so that he may depart happy—to agree later on with what David said in his haste—that "all men are liars."—Summersville News.

The postoffice trouble at Hogansville has at last been settled by Miss Flora Jones being appointed to succeed J. H. Lofton, the negro, who soon after he was appointed some time ago was shot from ambush. The office paid $1,000 a year and the citizens boycotted it after the negroes appointment until it didn't pay scarcely anything and he was given a job at Washington City.

Dahlonega is to have a great jubilation upon the opening of the big mining plant of the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Company, some 500 capitalists from the North and West to be present. Great preparations are being made and the event promises to be an eventful one in the history of this mining town. Mr. D. E. Evans of Gainesville, has the contract for hauling the crowd of capitalists to Dahlonega and, although the job is a big one, he says he will put them there on time. Mr. Evans states that in talking with one of the big mining men recently he gave it out that a railroad was sure to be built to Dahlonega from either Gainesville, Lula or Atlanta.—Georgia Cracker.

A rich three foot vein was struck in the shaft down at the Hand last Monday, gold being visible without the use of any kind of a glass.

The core drill at the Benning has reached a depth of one hundred and fifty feet. We understand that they struck ore at about 100.

Col. Z. B. Hargrove, who owns valuable mineral property near Auraria, was at that place a day or two last week. We understand that the gentleman expects to return soon and commence the erection of a stamp mill for the purpose of working his property.

Gen. A. J. Warner, president of Crown Mountain Gold Mining and Milling Co., was in Dahlonega a day or two last week looking after his mining interests here. The general was accompanied by a civil mining engineer who came in the interest of the company, enabling them to determine from what point to secure their water power when he completes his investigations.

A large force of hands were put to work on the Singleton property by the new company last week making roads and doing other necessary work so as to get the things about the mine in trim. We understand that the name of this mine will be changed from the Singleton to the Standard and that a large new mill of probably 60 stamps will be erected on the same at an early day.

Some excellent ore is being taken out at the Wallace vein at what used to be known as the Preacher mine, now belonging to the Crown Mountain Co. It was struck first of the week much richer than was ever known before. A person can stand off ten feet from the vein and see the gold in the rock. Some ore was taken out Tuesday having pieces of gold sticking in it as large as grains of corn.

Birch Bros., owners of the dredge boat in the Chatahoochee river, are thinking of putting in a dynamo to give light so they can run the boat day and night. They say that they have ten years work. In speaking of the Chatahoochee river the other day one of the gentlemen said that the river was an enormous sluice box continually catching the gold from the hill sides causing it to pay to work the bed every five years.

Z. V. Hewitt, President of the Gen. Joe Wheeler mine, was registered at the Hall House last Friday who remained here a couple of days or more. Mr. Hewitt is a resident of Bridgeport, Conn., who recently came down south and invested in our gold mines, purchasing property near the line of Lumpkin and Dawson, known as the Willis, which is known to be a good investment as the veins are large and show up well. The gentleman is waiting the arrival of his brother who is a practical miner of much experience, who will select a suitable site for a large mill, then work will begin at once.

Quite a number of capitalists and parties interested in mining came in Tuesday afternoon and registered at the Hall House, who spent some time in inspecting the mines. Their names are as follows: A. F. Stevenson, W. A. Morrisons, W. A. Alden, F. R. Adams, J. G. Rosenthal, of Delaware, Ohio; G. H. Breyman, of Toledo, Ohio; W. E. Jacobs, W. M. Fisher, J. Siebert, L. Hiebert, E. G. Orebahg, E. A. Cole, of Columbus, Ohio; G. S. Adams, of Chattanooga; and Prof. W. S. Yeates, state geologist, of Atlanta. Another large party came in the following day but as they hadn't registered as we went to press we are unable to give their names. It is the first visit here for some of the northern gentlemen, but after looking over the mineral belt expressed themselves as being well pleased with the gold mines.

J. F. Moore, secretary and treasurer of Crown Mountain Gold Mining and Milling Co., spent several days in Gainesville last week, and while there sold quite a lot of stock to various capitalists, which shows that they too have the utmost confidence in Lumpkin county's gold mines. Not only the people of Gainesville and the north are taking stock in this enterprise, but citizens right here in Dahlonega are reaching their hands down in their pockets after money for the same purpose. This no doubt was brought about by the large amount of money spent by northern capitalists in the development of our gold mines, showing that the veins are much larger and richer than even the natives had any idea of before. The old saying that it takes money to make money is a very true one, and the move made by our northern friends has already been of great benefit to this whole country.

Nine and a half million of dollars are the assets of the three new companies that are now operating in the gold mines of Lumpkin county. The Consolidated Gold Mining Company has about completed its first mill at a cost of over $300,000. This company is capitalized at $5,000,000 and has no stock for sale. The Chicago Mining and Milling Company is capitalized at $2,500,000, and the Crown Mountain Company at $2,000,000. All of these companies have valuable properties and will have their new mills in operation within the year. They are putting up plants the equal of any in Colorado, and will work the refractory ores that have before been neglected. Dahlonega is planning to have a big banquet to the stockholders of all these companies at the opening of the mills of the Consolidated Company in May. Over 500 guests will be invited. The above is from the Gainesville Eagle of last week, and it might have added that another company is being organized which will apply for a charter in a very short while.

The other day over in Quillian's district in Hall county, trouble arose between some negroes and whites during which one of the party got cut with a knife. The negroes swore out a warrant for a certain white man who was arrested when he was taken away by some parties from the bailiff. The bailiff then had warrants issued for those interested and at last account four bailiffs had arrested the whole outfit.

White county has a woman that draws two pensions.

The low down scamp who went by the name of Ollie Jones, claiming to be from Habersham county, and deserted his young wife in Dahlonega on the 8th of December, leaving her without a cent of money or a bite to eat in the house, made his appearance here for a few minutes on the first day of March just long enough to get his wife and leave out like some sheep killing dog for fear certain officers might find out his whereabouts, for he was guilty of the meanest crimes on record if what he stated was true. He worked here several months during which time he won the affections of the girl that he married without her father's consent, for he looked mean and didn't have the appearance of one who would make any girl a good husband. He seemed to take delight in telling his companions how he used to rob farmers out west. He also stated that he broke jail at Jefferson, Ga., some years ago charged with selling liquor, and also said that there was a warrant against him in Habersham county, Georgia, charging him with seduction. So this goes to show that he is of the meanest type, for a man who will rob a farmer of his hard earned money and a young girl of her character is not safe in any community, much less making a decent husband. However, these reports began to spread and doubtless he thought they might reach the ears of interested parties and he decided to move out, not even telling his wife where he was going. After some weeks he wrote to a friend of his wife here and the wife and the low down scoundrel kept up their correspondence until he got her to consent to go and came after her, and we wouldn't be surprised to shortly hear of his wife being left in some strange place by him having deserted her or being sent to the chain gang. It is strange that girls will fall in love with such so called human beings. He is very easily recognized for he favors a knot on a black gun tree. At last accounts he was at Tallapoosa, Ga., running an electric car and we trust that some time when there are no passengers on the car that it will run off of the track and land this thing into the devil's arms so he can get his just reward. Since the above was in type we learn that this scoundrel is in Ducktown. Here he works in a deep shaft and is much nearer the place he will go, much more convenient for him to begin to receive proper treatment.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!

Ask your physician this question, "What is the one great remedy for consumption?" He will answer, "Cod-liver oil." Nine out of ten will answer the same way.

Yet when persons have consumption they loathe all fatty foods, yet fat is necessary for their recovery and they cannot take plain cod-liver oil. The plain oil disturbs the stomach and takes away the appetite. The disagreeable fishy odor and taste make it almost unendurable. What is to be done?

This question was answered when we first made of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Although that was nearly twenty-five years ago, yet it stands alone today the one great remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs.

The bad taste and odor have been taken away, the oil itself has been partly digested, and the most sensitive stomach objects to it rarely. Not one in ten can take and digest the plain oil. Nine out of ten can take SCOTT'S EMULSION and digest it. That's why it cures so many cases of early consumption. Even in advanced cases it brings comfort and greatly prolongs life.

Frequently you hear white people wish that the negroes were away off in some country to themselves, but every time a car load is carried away a kick is made and the railroad is blamed. This is the trouble down at Monticello now and all are mad at the emigrant agents because they have coaxed off a car load of farm hands. The negro is missed on the farm as well as in the elections.

Soldiers state pensioners will be paid about the 15th inst., so says the pension agent.

The prohibition and anti of Hall are mustering together their forces for a big fight when the election comes off.

The date for tax returns in Georgia has been fixed on February 1st this year, and the amount of property owned by parties then is returnable.

The Louisiana republican state convention has been held and the delegates instructed to vote for McKinley.

Mrs. George M. Quillian, a daughter of Dr. A. F. Woodward, of Cleveland, died at Belton, a few days ago.

We are glad that the farmer who pulled the combless roosters tails out and sold them for hens here recently don't live in Lumpkin county.

Mr. Coffee has been put back as night watchman until the middle of the month and Mr. Tolbert is looking after the street work.

At the college chapel on Friday evening, March 9th, the next attraction of the lecture course will be by Mr. Edwin Barker, of Chicago, in a monologue of David Copperfield, Dickens' masterpiece. Mr. Barker will during the evening impersonate no less than 12 different characters. He is a success in his line and those who fail to hear him will miss a rare treat.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MARCH 9 1900.

Flourstocks 90 cents at J. H. McKee's.

Merchant Copeland has been confined to his room for several days.

The Nugget office is the place to get your job work done nice, cheap and quick.

It is no trouble for good laborers to get work in Dahlonega, more especially miners.

It is said that we are going to have a bakery in Dahlonega. Won't this be nice?

Mayor Price, after being confined to his room for several days, is able to be out again.

Quite a number of college boys are practicing for a long race which will take place for a prize on the first day of April.

Barlow Parks, of Gainesville, was up to Dahlonega last Tuesday taking in the sights at the mines accompanied by his wife.

Prof. Anstead and W. B. Fry's new residences are going right up and will be ready for occupancy in a short time if the weather is favorable.

The owner of the paper you are reading said that he was tired of paying for it for you to read but hated to tell you so. You ought to take the hint.

The beautiful lot where the Consolidated Co. is building a large hotel once sold for a pair of boots. It could not be purchased now for several thousand dollars.

Frank L. Reese has already commenced business and is now ready to wait on customers with a new line of all kinds of goods at prices that will be sure to suit you.

When wanting bargains don't fail to call on Frank L. Reese, who has just opened up a new stock of goods in the Masonic Hall building. Both goods and prices will please you.

Dr. John Radolph, who has been out west for some time, came to Dahlonega on a visit to relatives last week. It is rumored that the Doctor may locate and hang out his shingle here.

The College Band which was recently organized is composed of the following ten students: S. A. Harris, Lieutenant, A. P. Bell, Sergeant, M. H. McGrath, Corporal, H. Wilson, Mark Richards, W. H. Berry, C. L. Harris, W. T. Edwards, Judge Grant, I. O. Parker.

Arch Anderson had a run away and a small tear up as he was coming into Dahlonega last Tuesday near Rice's shop. The horses got scared at that mud hole out there made by the council and while trying to shun it ran up on the bank overturning the hack, causing them to move out at a lively rate.

The boys about Porter Springs have organized a debating society which meets at the school house every Saturday night, and discuss such subjects as they desire. The subject last Saturday night was "Resolved, That schools are more beneficial than courts." The negative gained the decision. The best of order is preserved and much good is being done by this society.

A rat in the parlor creates much excitement and laughter. Mr. West residing in Dahlonega, knows this to be a fact. The other night one found its way into his parlor when the door was closed and the fun commenced by Mr. West and another gentleman getting a stick each to kill the intruder while the most of the family occupied chairs in a standing position. It required some time to carry out their intentions and after the excitement was all over the room looked as if it had been visited by a cyclone. Two lamp globes were broken, tables and stands overturned besides nearly everything else in the room being displaced. All caused by a little rat.

Col. Charters has been courting up at Clarksville this week.

Capt. W. J. Worley and his wife have been attacked by the grip for a day or two.

A pet coon brought in by a mountaineer was the biggest attraction here last Tuesday.

House room is very scarce here now. We know of a little unceiled room 9x14 renting for $1.50 per month.

Our hotels have been presenting quite a lively appearance again this week by a large number of gold seekers, being the first trip for a number of them.

The college boys belonging to the band are learning rapidly. Already they can give Home, Sweet Home well enough to cause all the homesick boys to shed tears.

Mrs. J. V. Harbison and three of her children are down with pneumonia fever. Some of the patients are improving while others are on a stand still.

Treasurer Anderson won't risk the county's money here but sends it off to the bank. So if a night watch can't look after this kind of business there is no use to have one.

Mrs. Cartledge is selling out as fast as possible and will vacate Halls Villa about the first of next month and go to Atlanta. It is not known who will occupy this hotel yet.

G. G. Evans, has sold out his mercantile business at Wahoo to W. T. Haynes. Mr. Evans has also been postmaster at that place for years, but he resigned last week and Mr. Haynes will take the office.

Last Monday evening was the regular meeting for the city council to coynoe and appoint tax assessors, but there were only three members present and it had to be postponed until a fuller turn out could be had.

W. W. Crisson who has been engaged down near Atlanta for some time in mining, returned home first of the week who does not expect to return. There are plenty of work right here at home for all practical miners.

A Mr. Day from Harmony Grove, Ga., has been in Dahlonega this week looking out a site for a planing mill provided one would pay. He received much encouragement by our citizens, for this is an industry that is certainly needed here now and one that will pay well.

Wm. Tolbert was put to work across the ridge last Tuesday with a force of hands digging up trees and making new streets on the property recently surveyed off into town lots by Prof. J. W. Boyd where Prof. Anstead is building a new residence and several others will soon commence.

William Horrocks, of Philadelphia, was in Dahlonega last week who gave the Nugget office a pleasant call and informed us that he was here with an eye to farming provided he could secure some ten or twelve acres of suitable land near enough town so he could market his produce. He is a practical farmer and would be a big addition to this industry here.

Not a single brick can be had in Dahlonega now and but little lumber. We are in need of saw mills and brick yards and need them badly. Either one or both would be a splendid investment for any one wishing to make money fast. There never was such a demand for building material here and it is going to increase. Work is greatly retarded by the lack of brick and lumber. The Consolidated Co. had to decline adding another story to their large hotel for the lack of lumber, and last Tuesday seven or eight workmen had to be suspended down at their mill until a supply of lumber could be had. Come on, you brick manufacturers and saw mill men without delay and go to work. One brick yard is going to be started but it won't furnish half enough brick to supply the demand.

Capitalists and mining men every where are turning their attention to Dahlonega.

C. M. Moore is making arrangements to manufacture brick here as soon as the weather will admit.

New faces are seen in Dahlonega every day. Some in search of gold, some one thing and some another.

Saturday and Sunday were pleasant enough to cause the English sparrows to commence building their nests.

Merchant Jim Tate got tired of paying high store rent and boxed up his goods until his building could be fitted up.

Watch for the cross mark on your paper. It is very important to do so for it means that your subscription has expired.

We are glad to see our friend Newt. DuPre back at his old place in the Hall Commissary, after being absent quite a while on account of bad health.

A couple of gentlemen were in Dahlonega last Saturday in search of some place to do business. One was from Brunswick and the other from White county.

The population of Dahlonega has increased nearly three hundred in twelve months, and the indications are now that it will increase more rapidly in the next twelve—double if not thrice.

Judge W. W. Murray, president of the Pioneer Exploitation and Development Co., of Dahlonega, who has been in Gainesville for a short time on business, has returned to his home in Tennessee.

Some parties were here last week with an eye to purchasing land and putting up a number of cottages to rent, but we have not learned yet whether they got a location to suit them or not. Nothing would pay better. Houses can easily be rented for from five to eight dollars per month.

Quite likely the Consolidated Co. decided that they could not add another story to their already large hotel and have it ready for visitors at the big jubilee in May, as a large number of hands were put to work on it last week so as to complete the building as early as possible.

Solicitor W. A. Charters, was very successful with his business at Rabun Superior court last week. Out of sixteen cases tried fifteen defendants were found guilty. The Colonel has already proven himself to be one of the most successful solicitors this circuit has ever had.

We made an inspection of the interior of the new Presbyterian church in Dahlonega last Saturday, which is receiving the finishing touch by Mr. Clark of Gainesville, the contractor, and find it one of the neatest and best finished churches in the city. Mr. Clark has the contract for making the seats which will be commenced right away and it will not be long until services can be held in this beautiful structure.

It will cost a great deal more this year to run a newspaper than last on account of the rise in the price of printing material and we hope that none of our friends will expect us to send them the Nugget on time. We pay cash in advance for everything we buy and will expect our patrons to do the same. It will be no trouble for any industrious person to do this for there is plenty of money in the country, and if they are not living a prosperous and happy life it is their fault.

A portion of the weekly editors have adopted the plan of publishing an honor roll—giving the names of every person paying in fifty cents or a dollar, causing some of the ministers running papers to give the names of those that even send them a lunch. It takes well with those desiring newspapers notoriety, but is not exactly fair, for the ones donating a glass of jelly or pumpkin custard get just as much credit as those giving a baked lamb.

It requires two wagons all the time to keep the Consolidated Store in flour alone.

The flag was hoisted over the Consolidated Cos. new mill last Friday for the first time.

Some laborers, unable to rent houses in or near town have to walk from three to five miles to and from the mines in order to work.

The spring frogs in the ponds and branches below the city commenced giving their musical entertainments for the season, several days ago.

If any one wishes to keep the college time they can do so by setting their time keepers at 7:30 at the first ringing of the college in the morning and at 8 at the second ringing.

Our farmers are complaining of not being able to do any work yet on account of the unfavorable weather. This is nothing new for them to do however, as the weather man couldn't please all the people even if he was to try.

Last Saturday night while G. D. Bruce, his wife and little girl were on their way to relatives out in the country, the buggy ran against a stump causing the occupants to fall out, slightly injuring Mrs. Bruce and breaking the buggy.

It is said that some stranger appeared on top of the Hall House last Sunday while under the influence of liquor and gave a kind of a free entertainment to supper spectators who looked for him to fall off every moment. We suppose the marshal considered him above the incorporate limits, as no official notice was taken of it.

Wilson Blackburn was brought back from Pickens county last week by sheriff Davis on a warrant sworn out by W. J. Burt, charging the defendant with getting goods under false pretense. After his arrival Mr. Burt came in and the matter was compromised by Blackburn making satisfactory arrangements and paying the cost.

A certain young editor was recently boasting about carrying a little jug of liquor to one of our hotels the other night, and after a few swallows by some visitors got them every one to subscribe for his paper. We don't have to get any one under the influence of liquor to cause them to take the Nugget. They take it without this.

The Garnett bridge across the Chatstee river makes it very convenient for citizens in that section wishing to visit Dahlonega. They can come now at any time. The entire hands of the district were recently called out to make a new two mile road necessary to reach the bridge and shun the hills, causing many of the hands to get out of humor, especially those owning no stock.

That was certainly a happy pair gliding along the sidewalk together last Saturday. The woman was about two feet behind her favorite one taking a back view of him through a magnifying glass. They were not in each others company long but the sweet and loving words fell from their lips so fast that their mouths resembled two candy pears when they separated. Of course the womans husband was not present.

Some days ago a man residing in the upper portion of the county sent to both Dahlonega and Cleveland after a physician for his son who was seriously sick, but he was too poor to pay and no medical aid could be obtained. So the father could do nothing but sit down by his suffering boy and trust in providence. The family all got around the bed and watched and bathed the sick ones painful head. In a short while they noticed that the boy got better and as time past the sick one improved rapidly, causing the whole family to feel like rejoicing when a fiddle was sent for, the music commenced and they had a big time.

The Consolidated Co. will have their electric lights up some time during next week.

Carpenter Geo. Duncan commenced building him a house last Monday down at Mechanicsville.

Those desiring to register will find the books in the hands of clerk of the Superior Court Wallace.

M. J. Williams went across the Blue Ridge this week to set out some fruit trees on his farm in Union county, which example should be followed by others.

Some of our builders are compelled to get their lumber from Gainesville else be forced to suspend their work. Hauling lumber over a muddy road now a distance of twenty-five miles is quite a tough job.

An effort is being made to have a postoffice established at A. J. Edges, some five or six miles above Dahlonega on the lower Cleveland road. The citizens in that community badly need the office and ought to have it.

Last Tuesday Rev. Mr. Parks made it known that he was going to vacate the residence he occupies and go to boarding. In less than three hours from the time Col. Price, the owner, had five applications from parties wanting to rent the dwelling.

Some of the Chattanooga papers have stated that the jubilee in Dahlonega by the citizens and miners would come off on the 30th day of May. This is a mistake. The time has not been fixed. This wouldn't be an appropriate day no way as it is a legal holiday for northern people to decorate union soldiers graves, and none of them would like to come down here to attend a jubilee in the south while the graves of their departed friends were being decorated in the north.

Last Tuesday Dr. Jones was hastily sent for to go over in to Union county and treat Hiram Crumby who had been seriously injured while working at a saw mill and believed to be dying. When the physician reached his destination he found Mr. Crumby in a dreadful fix, one of his jaw bones being broken and both eyes so badly injured that the Dr. fears he will lose his sight. At the time of the accident he was running the saw which hung in some way hurling a piece of timber which struck him in the face.

We need just such saw mills in Lumpkin as Turner Quillian, of Land, Hall county has, owned by men of the same energy and pluck as this gentleman. Mr. Quillian has been engaged in furnishing the Consolidated Co. in Dahlonega with a large portion of lumber used at the mines. Since this company commenced work last summer he has saved them between seven and eight hundred thousand feet of choice lumber, and has as much more to cut for them. He has recently made an outlay of two thousand dollars to better prepare himself for the business. While in town Tuesday Mr. Quillian informed us that he was advertising for bids now for the construction of a local telephone line from Land to Bellton showing that there is some life about the people in that neighborhood.

A thief committed a pretty bold act down at the Hand one day last week by breaking into several of the miners "shacks" while the occupants were absent at work, carrying away a number of articles. From Howard & Grindles he got an over coat, a dress coat, one vest, $2.00 in money and a lot of rations. A lot of rations were carried away from another, but when the thief visited Tom Duckets place of abode he didn't get enough to pay him for his trouble. After going down the smutty chimney he only found one pound of Arbuckle coffee, which was carried off, winding up his stealing for the day. Jim Jackson, of White county, is the suspected party for whom a warrant was issued, but Jim left for another clime before he could be arrested.

Woods earliest seed potatoes for sale by J. H. McKee

J. F. Moore has purchased the stable and lot near the Public Spring from Dr. N. F. Howard.

To exchange for lumber a horse, a sewing machine and an organ by G. H. McGuire, Dahlonega Ga.

G. H. McGuire has disposed of his stock of goods and will hereafter give his whole attention to the jewelry business.

Mrs. Agness Mullinax, who used to reside near Auraria, died a few days ago near Rome Ga., at the age of one hundred years.

Prof. J. W. Boyd recently expended $175 in improvements on his residence which we overlooked in our late report of improvements in Dahlonega.

Several of Capt. Hall's houses are being vacated and it is rumored that his entire property here will change hands first of next month, having been purchased by the Consolidated Co.

J. H. Bell, of Auraria, was in Dahlonega this week. He has been down in Fulton county prospecting for gold for some time, and has found it interesting enough to return.

It seems that the price of liquor has advanced in Dahlonega as well as produce. A woman was in the city last Wednesday with a lot of brandy for which she asked $4 per gallon which used to sell at $2.

J. S. Newkirk, of Brunswick, Ga., has rented the Thomas store house recently vacated by James Tate, who will open out a market and grocery store in a few days. We most heartily welcome this gentleman to our city.

Go to the postoffice and see which paper in Dahlonega has the largest circulation. Here every paper is weighed and a record is kept. When you do so you will find the Nugget in the lead, and that too without having any dead-ends.

When visitors come to Dahlonega we do not hang around the hotels like a dog around a market, interfering with peoples business in order to get a few subscribers, nevertheless we appreciate the patronage of all and those desiring the Nugget know where to come.

We think if the city council would adopt a new plan in reference to certain matters that it would give better satisfaction and would be doing nothing but justice to all, and one in particular is when work is performed and lumber furnished the city when there is no money in the treasury. We believe the mayor should give an order on the city treasurer, just as the ordinary does on the county treasurer, and let the parties either hold it until there is money on hand or trade it to any merchant or person they want to. There is a large amount of money paid out by our citizens for taxes and they should be allowed to get a part of it back whenever an opportunity is offered. There are business men here who pay out hundreds of dollars for city taxes that have no opportunity of getting back a cent of it.

A committee from the council went out Wednesday looking out a site for a new calaboose. Quite likely they will make a report for its erection near the Clark house just below the rock wall on college street, where a two story building is aimed to be put up so the mayor can try defendants above after which they will be let down by an elevator to the prison below. This will be very convenient for the marshal but annoying to the neighbors to hear the prisoners cursing and blackguarding. We understand that this is the objections to its present location. If this be true there is no use of making a change for the new place is much more public than the old one, and the people down here don't want to hear the blackguarding any more than those in the neighborhood where it now is.

Stick to The Farm.

Why so many people are leaving their farms and moving to town is beyond our understanding. It is strange, indeed. A man who has a family to support, mainly by his own labor, and who is not a professional man or skilled artisan who can get a large price for his daily labor, should naturally, if he is a sensible man, seek the cheapest place to live, and the place where his own personal efforts will count for the most. It is a fact that no place to fulfill all these conditions equals the farm. The future for the people leaving their farms and moving to town, where they have to pay house rent, buy all their food, coal, wood, etc., has no inviting prospect, no hope; they must face a hard and stormy pathway. On the farm they can grow their own living for little cost, for stock and fowls of all kinds, as well as crops, are growing all the time, night and day, wet and dry, sick and well, provided all work is done well when able to work and that judicious care is exercised. If you are sick and unable to work a day or a week, something is coming in still. In town if you are sick and unable to work a day or a week, expenses go on, nothing comes in, and the time can never regained. It is a fact that the greater number of the wealthiest men of to-day gained their wealth on the farm; and it is a fact that the healthiest people of to-day are those that live on farms. Have not you been to more expense generally in one year in town than you ever were on the farm? Haven't you enjoyed less of fresh meat, sweet potatoes, milk and butter, fried chicken, etc., in town than you ever did on the farm? Then why act so unwisely as to abandon your home and farm and move to town, where you will have to carry all these heavy burdens? The man on the farm can always do better by his own labor than he can as a day laborer in town with all the town's expenses and hardships.—Ex.

Own Master.

To be sure, many country-bred boys have succeeded, and succeeded wonderfully, in the city, principally because they were country-bred, says the Southern Farmer. But for the great mass, whether born in the country or city, life in the city means, at the greatest, the ability spend one's life in working for another in the effort to make a living, with but little time for self-improvement and with nothing material to show at the end. On the other hand, the country employe of steady habits, of integrity and energy, has before him the prospects of owning his own farm, where ever lick of work he does is for himself and tending to improve his investment of money or labor. He has the satisfaction of being his own master, and even though he may leave to his family nothing but the original farm and his good name he will have had opportunity to make of himself a well rounded character, which, after all, ought to be the main object of a man's life. Country boys, and even city ones, should be taught that the opportunity for independence diminished as the drift from the country to the city increases.

Dr. Pearson, a millionaire of Chicago, is making arrangements to give away the last of his fortune before he dies. During the past ten years he has given to colleges and hospitals $2,500,000 and he still has $1,500,000 to dispose of. In the gifts made he will specify that the recipient shall pay to him and to his wife an annuity of 2 percent of the sum received; the payment to cease when both of them are dead. By this means Dr. Pearson will have an ample income as long as he lives, and will have the satisfaction of seeing his property distributed according to his wishes. He is now eighty years old. It is a wise man who can make himself the executor of his own estate.

Looking Forward.

Dr. Lyman Abbott, among a long list of things he is engaged in looking forward to, and which he and other fantastic dreamers will continue to look forward to until the dying breath of time shall fan the ponderous gates of eternity, is the following solution of the capital and labor question:

"I look forward to the time when, by no sudden revolution, but by the gradual diffusion of education and the gradual diffusion of wealth, the capitalistic system will yield to a democracy of industry, as slavery has yielded to feudalism, and feudalism to capitalism; when the men who work, some with brain and some with hand and some with both brain and hand, will themselves own the implements of industry, and labor will hire capital, instead of capital hiring labor."

If there is any "gradual diffusion" of wealth beginning, nobody has discovered it. The farmer had a pair of balky mules. As an experiment, he tied a bunch of turnips to the wagon pole, just beyond the reach of the animals. Seeing them, smelling them and almost tasting them, they started forward on a run to catch them, but they never did. "Looking forward" is too much like the April fool joke in yogue among the street urchins: "Look behind, mister," and he always does, which is the essence of the joke.

A. R. De Flenet, editor of the Journal, Dayton, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by F. W. THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MARCH 16, 1900.

Entered at the Postoffice at Dahlonega, Ga., P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Gainesville hopes to be able to raise a sufficient amount of money to build a cotton factory.

There are several cases of small pox at Monticello, Ga., five cases being in the family of the ordinary. Six cases being in families who live in the center of the town.

Harlan Whittaker and W. H. Culton, have been arrested charged with complicity in the assassination of Gov. Gobel in Kentucky and are both now in jail at Louisville, causing great excitement.

The war office bulletin announcing the casualties of the south African war up to the 13th inst. showed the following: Killed 2,418, wounded, 8,646, died of disease, 1,029, missing, 3,483. Total, 15,077.

Negroes are emigrating from Athens for Mississippi by the hundreds, causing much excitement. They give away their houses and furniture, and several plantations in Clark county are abandoned and not enough hands left to work them.

All candidates for offices from president down, will please remember that newspapers cannot be run altogether on glory, and if they want pulls published in these columns they must send along enough cash to cover the usual charges for announcements and then we will consider specially notices of all the said candidates in good standing.—Advocate Democrat. The same, brother, over our way.

We notice from the Macon Telegraph that many of the ladies are going to sign a petition asking Gov. Chandler to pardon old Mrs. Nobles who was sent to the penitentiary for life for hiring a negro to murder her husband, for what? because he undertook to correct his girls and wanted them to do right. This is a very poor way to build up society. Had she received her just rights she would have been hanged long ago. Providence may take the case in hand yet, like he did Flanagan.

The Macon Telegraph Atlanta correspondent under date of March the 7th says: The Republican party in Georgia will not put out a state ticket. This has been definitely decided upon, and the announcement may as well be given to the public now as later on. The announcement that there will be no ticket for the Republicans to vote for will be a great disappointment to a large number of Republican voters who are willing to support any ticket that the party puts out.

Flanagan attorneys are now trying to convince the public that this noted murderer, who shot down two helpless women in De Kalb county near four years since, and died a few days ago, was crazy by having his brains taken out and examined by physicians which will require thirty days before a decision can be made. These attorneys, for the sake of notoriety, will cause this murderer out and carved up so that his creator will not recognize him, if they are not careful, maybe causing him to be placed in the wrong pew.

A couple in New York have sued for divorce, the wife on the ground that her husband spanked her before Christmas and took their children away. Some of his complaints are that his wife deceived them during their betrothal by not letting him know that most of her left ear was gone; that her father walks in his sleep, that she called him and his ancestors "Dutch pigs;" that she flitted with a young man in the country and permitted him to pinch her; that she reyled his religion; hid his crucifix and abused the picture of the Pope. He admits that he spanked her five times.—Ex.

Capitalists and investors are coming to Dahlonega almost every day.

Mr. Walker has been moving up things about the Crescent since the weather began to moderate.

An application for a charter for the Chicago-North Gold Mining Co. has been filed in the clerk's office of Lumpkin county.

The Consolidated Company added a large force at the works this week and have been making pretty did headway during the splendid days which all have been enjoying so much.

Crown Mountain Gold mining stock is still selling. In a few days longer it will be determined from which point the mine will be supplied with water. They have three places in view and of course the most practicable one will be selected.

They have struck a large five foot vein on the lot adjoining the celebrated Willis property which shows up splendid. This property will likely change hands right away and belong to the company known as the General Joe Wheeler.

It is reported that Capt. Asbury recently received a second payment on the Cavender's Creek property from the company purchasing it, which will be of great benefit to not only the parties who owned it, but to the purchasers, for it is as good mining property as we have in the county.

M. Kingsbury, of Auraria, and C. H. Prendergast, of Savannah, were up awhile last Wednesday. Mr. Prendergast owns valuable mining property near Auraria which is being operated by Mr. Kingsbury who is making money, and says that he feels satisfied that it is one of the best placer mines in this country.

The Singleton, or Tabloneka gold mine is still being worked by J. E. Moore, and the property has not yet changed hands. It is true that a trade is pending and the Standard Co. put a force of hands on the property last Monday making surveys and cleaning off some ground, but the mine still belongs to the Tabloneka Mining Co.

We are informed by one who is in a position to know that they will be able to get the water to the Hand mill in about ten days if not prevented by bad weather. They could have gotten it there some time ago had they been able to get the lumber. The road being so bad that it couldn't be hauled. The water is now down to where they are rapidly putting in the long tube, four miles above Dahlonega.

Among the visitors who have been here since our last issue interested in mining were: Frank G. Thomson, J. Lippett, Edward Aves, of Toledo, Ohio; and Mark Hopkins, of Saint Clair, Mich. The latter gentleman is a millionaire, while the others have all the money they may need for mining purposes and plenty left. Then after these gentlemen took their departure Dick Townsend and O. C. Wilcox, of Indiana, came in. All have mining interests here.

Dr. Cravens, general manager of the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., arrived in our city last Monday afternoon from Chicago, with his wife and two children. The Doctor has returned for the purpose of getting everything ready to operate the Briar Patch property, which was recently purchased by his company—a charter having already been applied for. The mill on lot 810 is about completed and will be ready to run as soon as the engine is received.

Much is being said about the jubilee which is proposed to be had here in the early part of May by our citizens to show the appreciation they have for the large amount of money spent by the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Co., at which five hundred or more persons are expected. We appreciate all this company has done as much as any body but our honest opinion is that this jubilee had better be postponed until it is seen that Dahlonega can care for such a crowd. Here we are with every house full from cellar to garret, five and six families occupying the same building every where an opportunity is offered and each hotel full nearly all the time. Now how do we expect to take care of such a crowd? Some say that we can put bunks in the court houses, churches and other places. Bunks cost $2 a piece and who is going to pay for 500 bunks just to use one night? Should it be done what northern gentleman is going to come several hundred miles and sleep on a bunk at a crowded time when he can come when it is quiet and see everything that is to be seen and not have to consume his time in listening to some one making a long winded speech? No, let us not invite these gentlemen to come in such a large number until we are able to care for them properly.

Mr. F. S. Packard, of the celebrated Turkey Hill mine, was in Dahlonega last Saturday with both a bottle and sack containing a nice lot of very rich ore, every rock most showing much gold, plainly visible to the naked eye, three of which he gave us, which we value very highly as country editors are quite fond of yellow metal, whether they belong to a party that favors sound money or not, because some of the little one-horse politicians who talk most really know least of what is best for the country. But there is one thing we do know and that is this: Lumpkin county gold will buy bread and meat and every thing else we need every time alike, and this is what we want. There is plenty of gold here, but as you are doubtless aware it takes money to make money. This is one reason why Mr. Packard offers his property for sale—advertisement to be found elsewhere. Another is, he is beyond the age to commence working gold mines, having already seen sixty-three summers, and only a few months ago had a fifteen thousand dollar fire. This alone, did his old age not prevent, keeps the gentleman from working this gold mine. For some time this energetic old gentleman has been on his property, doing what he could to develop it so as bring it before the public. His efforts have been met with success in a great degree, as he has opened up vein after vein and has one of the best shows on the belt.

The Atlanta Journal has been discussing the Palmer and Buckner Democrats from a text furnished by a communication from Col. W. P. Price. The position of Col. Price seems to be that the Palmer and Buckner Democrats have the right to vote as they please in future, "since they have seen the work of their hand established." The Journal thinks the Palmer and Buckner Democrats should loyally support Mr. Bryan this year. "Such men as Col. Price," it says, "did not bolt the platform and nominations of their former party associates in 1896 in mere fret or caprice. They did so because their convictions of duty and honor compelled them to the course they took."

Commenting on this, the Chattanooga News remarks: "We would mildly suggest to the Journal that it is surprising that a newspaper editor of ability, only four years after the scenes and incidents of 'duty and honor,' and at the same time admonish those honorable, but sparse, statesmen that it is their duty this year to give Mr. Bryan loyal support."

The better policy would be to state plainly that the Palmer and Buckner movement was a foolish thing, and that the men who went off in it should not subscribe to the doctrine 'once a fool always a fool,' but should come on back into the fold and work for the salvation of their country. It is very well for babies to whimper and fret over spilt milk, and for schoolboys to declaim about 'duty and honor,' but when politicians get at such business a chestnut bell is certainly in order."

We do not take up the matter in order to give advice to Palmer and Buckner Democrats who, like other free born Americans, have a right to do as they please. We would merely point out that by its will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

PACKARD & SON, P. O. Address, Half Way, Ga.

own showing the News is far more inconsistent than the Journal. Granting that conditions have indeed greatly changed, the Journal is not necessarily inconsistent at all. The News, however, sneers at "duty and honor" and talks about the "salvation" of the country all in the same breath. What the News should have said, in order to be consistent, was that in comparison with the supremacy of one's party the salvation of the country is as nothing, being worth no more than such chestnuts as "duty and honor," a diet too weak and unsatisfactory for the well grown politician and suited only to schoolboys and babies.—Macon Telegraph.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MR. 16 1900.

W. C. Thomas is down with a severe attack of the grip.

When you need dental work call on Grove, the dentist.

L. B. Chawford, of Blue Ridge, Ga., was here on a visit first of the week.

Gen. Warner, the President of Crown Mountain and Milling Co. was here again last week.

It is thought by some that the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court will not likely last a whole week.

Our new list of subscribers will be a good sized one if it continues to grow the rest of the month as fast as it has in the past.

If you want to make money come to Dahlonega with a good saw mill. There never was such a demand for lumber here before.

Last week when Judge Tate returned from Atlanta he brought with him the checks for all the wounded soldiers drawing pensions in this county.

Dr. M. N. Stow, of Mineral Bluff, was over this week on a business trip. While here he bought the old Signal building from Col. Price and will soon locate here.

W. J. Burt is having some improvements made out about his premises. He owns a saw mill and is not troubled about getting lumber like the people are here in town.

If you want to keep posted on all state and national affairs remember that we club our paper with both the Atlanta Weekly Constitution and the Twice a Week Journal.

Goodman Free was wedded to Miss Rutha Sparks last Thursday evening by Squire W. J. Worley. The girls' parents were opposed to her marrying and the ceremony was performed in the public road.

Habersham Superior Court was a very short one. Solicitor Charters got through with his business up there and reached home in time to spend a portion of Sunday. No business was transacted of very much interest to the public.

Birch, the prisoner who attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself in jail some time ago has never been any more trouble. It is believed by some that he did this thinking that it would arouse sympathy and cause them to turn him out.

We learn that Francis Cain, residing near Forter Springs, has new twin baby girls at his house. Most editors in writing about the appearance of a little one at a man's house, say that it "came to make the household happy." If this be a true saying Francis' house is certainly a happy place.

The number of inmates has considerably increased within the past few days up at the county's paupers home. When parties are sent there they are expected to work on the farm when the weather is fit. A certain lady and some five or six of her children were there early in the winter where they have been faring sumptuously until recently. Last Saturday after the clouds passed off causing the ground to dry out rapidly, Mr. Ash, the overseer, said to the lady, "Now, we are all enjoying health and must go to work on the farm Monday if the weather stays favorable, because we have been eating off of the county all the many rainy days and doing nothing." "No sir-ee!" replied the lady with an addition of words not used in Sunday Schools, "I don't expect to strike nary lick on this old farm." Monday morning when the hour for working arrived the lady and all her children were gone to some other part of the country, causing the overseer to look like the lone Pilgrim.

Ollie Bell and wife were up from Gainesville this week.

Barlow Parks, of Hall county, anticipates moving to Dahlonega and going into business if he can purchase property that suits him.

We notice that some of the members of the church are opposed to the students being forced to march to the house of worship in a body by officers carrying swords.

One of the members of the city council, is so displeased with the slow progress being made by that body, and the useless expenditure of money for certain purposes, that he says he thinks of resigning.

The other day Capt. Williams and his son Jay got a lot of hands to assist in burning the woods out around their intended dairy farm when the fence caught and destroyed about 150 pannels before they could put the fire out.

John Cannon, the great strawberry raiser of Hall county, is up this week setting Capt. Hall's lot, fronting this office, out in fruit trees, grapes, etc. A row of shade trees is also being set out along the entire property in the edge of the street.

One night last week a mink entered the dwelling of a lady in Dahlonega which killed and carried off her two pet birds. Then it came back to the premises and devoured the biggest portion of a chicken. This should be food for thought by those favoring the dog law.

We are told that A. J. Edge, residing in Crumby's district, after killing a hog recently went into Caldwell's store for salt to preserve it, who was given white sugar by mistake. A med was shortly prepared for a book agent and the gray was so thick that the man's mouth and the plate was soon connected by a string of the gray looking very much like a short telephone line.

Mr. Henry Morris has arrived in the city from Gillsville with his fair bride, which he took unto himself a few days ago. His bride is a daughter of a prosperous farmer, Mr. J. L. Thompson of Hall county. Mr. Morris is a skilled and entergetic carpenter of this place. He did some work on the Presbyterian church and what he did was done with credit to himself, the church and town.

Mr. Jess Adams was wedded to Miss Lula, daughter of John Adams, last Friday in Dahlonega, by Rev. E. R. Cook.

Mrs. T. S. Waters, of Gainesville, came up last week, together with her children, and spent several days with relatives.

Mr. Davidson, of White county, came here last week with a view of going into the photographic business but was unable to get a house.

The trustees of the N. G. A. College expect to get two brass caissons from the government for the military department of this institution.

Miss Stella Duvall, of Springfield, Ohio, sister of Mrs. Colvin, is visiting Professor and Mrs. Colvin, and will likely remain here a month or so.

Miss Nora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ward, was wedded to J. B. Crane, at the home of the brides father in Hightower district last Sunday.

When you have anything of interest to the public give your local papers the advantage by letting them have it before the dailies. This is not an unfair request we don't think.

Mrs. E. W. Strickland comes to the front this week with her new spring aid, and has a better and larger supply of millinery goods than she has ever had before, and pretty enough for any body.

We are informed that Green Marlow, of Hightower district, recently made his children drunk causing one to get mad and attempt to use his knife on some of them. A warrant was sworn out for the old man causing him to retreat to the mountains.

M. C. Martin, of Brunswick, Ga., has brought his family and located in Dahlonega, who has formed a copartnership with J. S. Newkirk, from the same place, and opened out a business in our city. We extend to them both a hearty welcome and hope that they will do a prosperous business.

Your attention is directed to the ad. of Fraser & Chalmers, dealers in all kinds of machinery, Chicago, Ill. Some of the mining men in this vicinity have already had some dealings with them who found the articles purchased just as represented and at prices which could not be undersold elsewhere.

The amount of money the people of Lumpkin county receive from the state of Georgia is ten thousand and seventy dollars which is a right good sum and helps out considerably, especially when it goes for a worthy cause. This amount comes annually for the following purposes, to-wit: N. G. A. College gets $6,000 annually, or has for some years; indigent pensioners, $2,400; wounded, $710, and widows, $900. The pension business is still increasing, not only in Lumpkin county but all over Georgia. The pension agent informed Judge Tate last week that he had had 5,000 blanks printed and that the supply was entirely exhausted, and still more are called for.

Last Saturday David Anderson bought a couple of boxes of sardines at some store in Dahlonega and departed for his home in Crumby's district. The family sit down and enjoyed the canned fish which they were fond of. Soon afterwards Mr. Anderson and one of his little girls began to feel sick, and the next day the little girl expired and at last accounts the father was in a dangerous condition. One box of the sardines seemed to be all right and didn't make any of those sick eating them. We have heard of people being poisoned by canned peaches but never knew of sardines hurting any one before. This is a horrible affair and is going to keep many persons from eating anything put up in cans hereafter.

The little child of John W. Jenkins died Wednesday night.

You can buy a good sewing machine at Anderson & Jones' on good terms.

Dr. Grove, the dentist, will move into his new quarters in the Tate building this week.

The nobbiest line of clothing in town at Anderson & Jones' just received. Call and examine prices before buying.

Mr. Wash Rider and Miss Salie, daughter of John W. Jones, were wedded on Thursday of last week at Jay by Rev. Mr. Verdell, of Dahlonega.

Gentlemen, we charge advertisers nothing for their ads, if we have not the largest circulation of any paper published in the county. There is a very easy way for you to find out by asking the postmaster at Dahlonega where the papers are all weighed.

Those "highfalutinary" folks in Dahlonega would save much embarrassment to themselves by permitting the money when they send an order for liquor to the female dealer at the "Drummers Resort." When they fail to pay promptly she comes in and duns them in a crowd making them look like "Before Taking", or as bad as Flanagan did before the Lord decided to take him out of the hands of the lawyers.

Your attention is called to the ad. this week of Frank L. Reese, who has opened out a mercantile business in the lower story of the Masonic Hall. We might go on in a columns length and tell about Mr. Reeses business qualifications and manner of fair dealing, but what is the use to take up space and consume time to tell about a young man who was born and reared in Lumpkin county and so well known to everybody in it?

Last week when a little blockade was brought to town it was right interesting to learn of the number of church members, both white and black that were sick and only wanted a little for "medical purposes". One colored minister sent in his bottle but the sickest ones had reached there first and his vessel went back empty. Never mind, this is a year of politics and if you can regenerate your health by chewing roots and eating herbs a while longer, there will be plenty of free liquor furnished by the office seeker after awhile.

We received a proposition last week from a liquor dealer at a distant for the insertion of an ad. for a case of liquor provided one-half the price of the liquid was paid in cash. We didn't accept from the fact that we can get a substitute—Peruna—much cheaper right here at home. It is true that it makes a man feel almost like he was dead the next day after taking a dose of a bottle or so, but it may cause him to have a religious inclination and cause him to do better before the devil gets entire control of him.

The committee selected to locate a site for a calaboose made a report last week for it to be built just below the rock wall on college street, but after the council met they decided, after consultation, that it would not be a very desirable place after all, and quite likely it will be built in the street on the hill below the old Baptist church. This opening is too steep to be used as a street and we don't suppose any one will object to its being built in this out of way place, as a boose is not used much no way. Occasionally some poor friendless fellow is locked up when others equally as guilty are allowed to go free on a so called bond until the matter dies out so as to keep their names out of the paper—some times never having to pay a cent. We understand that a fellow only the other day kicked a fatherless boy time and again on the public square and nothing was done with the perpetrator. Such as this causes us to make this remark. Let all be dealt with alike, be a town boy, student, county man or northern gentleman. "Let justice be done, though the heavens fall."

Farmers and gardeners made very good headway during the few pretty days which we all enjoyed so well after a long and very severe winter.

From an ordinance recently passed by the city council, published on our fourth page, it will be seen that it requires 60 cents on every one hundred dollars to run the city government this year.

We have had several pretty days this week, pleasant enough for some of the ladies to sit out in the porches and sing "Spring Time's Come, Gentle Annie," loud enough to attract the attention of their sweethearts.

The president of the Consolidated Co. informs us that he has fixed the date of the jubilee to come off in Dahlonega on the 2nd and 3rd days of May, at which time it is expected to have the big mill in good running order.

We stated last week that the services of Mr. Coffee had been retained only to the 15th inst. as night watchman, but it was an error. He has been employed until the 10th of April, at which time it is thought that all danger of fire will be over.

It is feared by some of the members of the Consolidated Co., that they won't get there hotel at this place completed by the time the jubilee comes off, but Mr. Kerr, the contractor, says that he will get his work done and the building will be ready by that time if the plasterer puts on a sufficient force of hands to rush the work forward.

Mr. Breyman, of Toledo, O., vice president of the Consolidated Co., after remaining here for several days, departed for his home last Sunday. Mr. Breyman is a very clever, sociable gentleman and we are always glad to see him come and hope that he will build here this summer, which he seems inclined to do, and spend more of his time in the Golden City of the mountains.

H. D. Gurley and W. H. McAfee have been appointed city tax assessors, which is provided for under a late act, amending the charter of Dahlonega. The population and valuation of property have largely increased since last spring. Their duty is to assess and double tax those failing to return their property, and where it is returned below its value to raise it to whatever they think is right and proper.

We are glad to say that all of Dahlonegas business men are now patronizing their home printers when in need of any work. Used to some of them would give their home printers all their thank you jobs and when they needed any thing done that there was any money in they would send it off, when they could have gotten it done just as well and cheap at home and saved all postage and express charges.

The fact that only one dollar in cash had been paid to the treasurer last year by the city marshal for dog tax, has caused the council to open their eyes and wonder, for it is stated that some forty or fifty dollars were collected. At a meeting of the body last week a committee of two was appointed to make an investigation and report the same at the next meeting. Owners of dogs have heretofore been permitted to either pay this tax in cash or work, and whether all dog taxes last year were paid in work except one dollar is the question to be inquired into. They think not. H. L. Blackwell was marshal at the time these taxes should have been collected who maybe can give a satisfactory explanation. If the council would adopt the plan that used to be carried out there would be less trouble, and that is to require the marshal to make a full and complete monthly report—the treasurer to keep a list of street hands as well as a list of those owning dogs, same as the marshal, and every time he collects any taxes let an entry be made of whom it is collected and whether it was paid in cash or labor.

Ladies' Dongolo shoes at Anderson & Jones' at $1 per pair. Also an elegant line of shirts, collars, ties, etc.

All who heard Mr. Barker lecture at the college the other night were highly pleased with it, stating that it was the best one delivered in Dahlonega yet.

The old Riley stable, being the oldest livery stable in Dahlonega, was torn away last week to give way for new improvements. It was built by Harrison W. Riley more than sixty years ago, and thus another old land mark is gone.

Not long ago Mrs. Geo. B. Gaddis, of Two Run, Ga., caught a fish out of the stream running near Shady Grove church having a set of teeth—double rows—on each side like a cats. It was about six inches long. She saved its head so as to show this curiosity to all who desire to see it for it is something new in this country.

W. R. Robinson, a former citizen of Dawson county, but for the past 16 years a citizen of Idaho, in company with editor Thomas, of Dawsonville, gave our city a short visit last Wednesday. Mr. Robinson is a practical miner and speaks of visiting our city again in a few days in order to look over and examine our gold fields.

It seems that there is another hustler on deck. We learn from good authority that the visit of Capt. Z. V. Hewitt to our city a few days ago was not altogether idle curiosity. He visited the Consolidated mining plant and was heard to express his opinion after returning to the hotel that the plant was magnificent and was very much pleased that Capt. Scott had given him permission to look through their works. He calls the Consolidated the backbone of North Georgia. It has leaked out that while here about nine acres were secured for the purpose of erecting a woodworking factory and machine brick manufactory. The location is within the city limits and we predict a successful addition to our city improvements.

Having received a card the other day from Rev. A. C. Ward requesting us to exchange the Nugget with the Christian Index so they could keep up with the Baptist news of this country, led us to make an investigation last Sunday, to see whether we could get up any news on this line from either denomination, before we entered this most excellent religious paper on our exchange list. At the ringing of the bells at 11 o'clock in the forenoon we noticed that nearly all the students went to the church where we are told that the shortest sermons are preached. This convinced us that religion was on a drag in Dahlonega. That night we visited both churches, going to the Methodist first, where we found the pastor and only fourteen others at 7 o'clock long after the second bell had rang. There were no official members there nor among those that arrived later, and but few old faces. Half an hour afterwards the pastor gave out a song. Three or four ladies and two young men composed the choir. "When the preacher said 'let us all pray,' only one person in the entire congregation knelt down. While the minister was talking a young lady turned her back to the good man and engaged in a conversation with another girl who had selected a seat behind her. From here we went to the Baptist church where we found things just about like they were at the other place, vacant seats were empty there too, the congregation at both churches not being half as large as the assemblage at the court house the other night at a minstrel show. Parties came in just in time to be dismissed with the rest of the congregation. During most of the time two young men stood at the door and peeped in, anxious for the minister to get through so they could escort some young ladies to their homes. Nothing of interest in religious matters so far and we will wait awhile longer before we begin to exchange with the Index or any other religious paper.

Education.

HOYLE, GA., March 5, 1900.
ED. NUGGET:—Please allow me space in your valuable paper for a few thoughts.

If this article should not be spiced with flowers rhetorical expressions and grammatical exactness I hope my friends will only look for the meaning and not for mistakes. Some time ago I read an article by Col. Price in regard to the schools in Nimblewill district. I was made glad indeed to know of the progress being made in the way of education.

The people of that district certainly have the material to make a good school and I believe they are willing to put it together and co-operate with those who are laboring for the good of them and their children. I think all will admit that, what benefits the children must help the parents, and will also prove beneficial to the next generation to come.

From what I have observed of those people I do not think they are like some I know, and with whom I have come in contact. There are some people who are too stingy and selfish to do a lick of work or give a cent towards a school house for fear it will benefit some one besides their own family. All who are familiar with the Bible know that God has no use for selfishness, and consequently these will be left out when He comes to make up His jewels.

I have seen men get mad when asked for a few cents to help call a school-house. It is a wonder to me that God ever blessed men of such principle with children, if indeed it can be called a blessing. In my estimation it is certainly no blessing to the world and certainly not to the child to be born of such parents. Such men look upon their children as common property. They look upon their sons as mules and horses and their daughters as their jersey cows. They ask themselves the question: How much are my children worth to me? How much can I get out of them? They never think for a moment, that, in a boy or girl, God has given them a jewel to have polished.

I believe that at the judgment day these children will rise up and say to their parents: "You have robbed me of an education which would have made me enjoy my existence in the world and made me useful to others around me. But as the result of your robbery I have been a 'hewer of wood and a drawer of water'; I have been a nuisance and a disgrace to society; I have committed numerous crimes of the vilest sort and severed out long terms in prison for it; I have been an expense and a disgrace to my state when I might have been an honor and a blessing."

I am glad old Lumpkin is making such advancement in the way of education as she has in the last few months. And indeed we might expect it with such a wise Christian man as Col. Price at the head of school affairs. What a pity that our country is not blessed with many more such men as he is.

Virgil Hicks.

Result of War.

Significant and interesting reflections of the war in South Africa are given as follows by Consul-General J. G. Stowe at Cape Town:

The exodus of Uitlanders from the South Republic and Orange Free State has, I believe, been unprecedented in history. Many of these people—the mining populations, the home and sinew of the world. Numbers of them, too poor to get out of the country, are subjects of charity in the cities of Cape Colony and Natal, and have to be fed. Some have funds for a few days or weeks, but will in time have to be supported by the public, and this is a country that cannot or does not produce the foodstuffs for its own people. The English army is fed with supplies from other countries, and while much of these may have originally come from the United States, they reach here via England. The customs duties and railroad and telegraph revenues have fallen off. As the railroads and telegraphs are owned by the government, a very large source of government support is lost, to say nothing of the employees thrown out of work.

Johannesburg in the Transvaal and Bloemfontein in the Free State are, to all intents and purposes, deserted cities. Johannesburg, the largest commercial center in South Africa, has, so far as trade is concerned, ceased to exist. This once busy, bustling city, producing monthly over fifty tons of gold and yearly $60,000,000 worth, is silent. Up to this time goods have reached the Transvaal via Delagoa bay, but it is not supposed that they will long be permitted to enter. The two republics must live on their own resources.

Their crops are ready for the sickle, but cannot be cut, as the men are off to the war. Prices are so high that the trade papers refrain from publishing the usual column of "market prices." Large quantities of gold enroute to sea-ports in this colony for shipment to England have been taken by the Boers. Representatives here of export commission houses of the United States are constantly booking and cabling large orders, particularly of foodstuffs, but word comes from the canners of meat and fish, makers of flour, cornmeal, etc., that they have about all they can do to supply the home demand and are many weeks or months behind orders.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MARCH 23, 1900

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Mrs. Lydia Graycraft, the largest woman in Indiana, died one day last week. She weighed 550 pounds.

When a girl is engaged to be married it is time for her to quit learning new patterns for fancy work and to begin learning how to put a good-working patch on a pair of trousers.—Ex.

Gainesville expects to have a big cotton manufacturing plant. Fifty thousand spindles will be run and the output will be 125,000 yards per day. It will employ 1,400 hands and consume 30,000 bales of cotton annually.

Now that the officials of the democratic party of Georgia have stemmed up the political engine who are going to take a ride? Those anticipating the voyage in Lumpkin county should make it known through the columns of the NUGGET.

A company capitalized at five million dollars, known as Nachoochee Mining and Manufacturing Co., have applied for a charter and will operate in White county. This will add greatly to Whites interest and eventually be a benefit to the whole country.

The late gathering of democrats in Atlanta wouldn't agree to have any thing to do with the temperance plank in preparing their platform or resolutions, nor the negro in the primaries, but both the negroes and the bottle will be hailed with delight in the general election.

The republican national convention will meet in Philadelphia June 19; the populist national convention in Sioux Falls, S. D., May 9; the middle of the road populists in Cincinnati on the same day; the prohibitionists in Chicago, June 27, and the democratic national convention in Kansas City July 4.

A mob of 150 masked men battered down the jail door at Marietta last Sunday morning at 1 o'clock and marched John Bailey, a negro charged with attempting to rape, to the center of the courthouse square and fired fully fifty shots at him, leaving him for dead where he fell, and then all departed.

An Idaho tramp who was injured on a railroad train while stealing a ride, has brought suit for damages, alleging that his mishap was due to the negligence of the company's employees. He says that although they knew where he was, and that he ought to have been put off, they did not put him off.

The Democratic state convention will be held on June 14. The primaries will be held May 15. Judges and solicitors-general will be elected by circuit primary. The people will have a chance to vote for United States senators, and all white voters, regardless of former party affiliations, may participate in the primaries, provided they agree to support the nominees. The question of state prohibition will not be voted on in the primaries. That was the sum of the work done by the Democratic state committee last Friday.

For the benefit of local sportsmen and the public generally we republish Georgia's game laws! The hunting season in Georgia is now over. From March 15 to November 1, it will be unlawful to shoot, trap, ensnare, net or destroy in any manner, any wild turkey, partridge, quail or any insectivorous or singing bird, except English sparrows, crows, larks, rice birds and wheat birds. Doves are protected from March 15 to August 15 and deer from January 1 to Sept. 1. Any person found with a deer, dead or alive, or any birds mentioned above, or bird eggs during the period for which they are protected will have the same used against him as prima facie evidence that he has violated this law. It is unlawful to net quail at any time.

Whorton Anderson and C. W. Fitts are working the Calhoun under a lease until Mr. Whorton, the owner, returns from a visit to his home at Spokane, Washington.

The grading of the electric railway line from the Hand mine to the Findley is about half done except a good deal of rock which will have to be blasted out of the way.

Col. A. J. Warner returned from Dahlonega Sunday. He is putting in a lot of new machinery down at the Cherokee mines and is preparing to carry on mining and saving gold on a larger scale than ever.—Cherokee Advance.

Judge Estes came up last Tuesday and granted the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co. a charter and General Manager Cravins has already put some twenty to thirty men to work on the company's property. This looks like business.

During Col. Z. T. Hargrove's recent visit to Auraria he purchased the Wells property near that place containing about 160 acres. It is said to be good mining property and it is reasonable to suppose that the Colonel means to work it.

They are going right a head with the tunnel on the Whim Hill property belonging to Christian Wahl, in search of the main vein. The tunnel is now 170 feet long and according to measurement it won't be long before they reach it. Several small rich veins have been struck since the beginning of this tunnel.

Work is going right along down at the Barlow mine. One large shaft at the Ozle has reached a depth of 25 feet and two more will be started on the same lead at once. A rich vein about three feet thick has already been struck in the shaft. Preparations are now being made to drain the Dog Head, timber up wherever necessary and commence deep mining.

Send us all mining news of interest. But bear in mind we want no imaginary reports—nothing but plain facts. The gold mines of this country are good enough generally without exaggerating the least bit, but are like any other business, cannot be run successfully with inexperienced men is why, they some times fail to give satisfactory results.

The Gainesville Eagle says: Mr. James M. Smith of Colorado Springs, Colo., has been in the city several days selecting a location for a smelter. Last Friday he purchased from J. R. Newton five acres of land two miles from town, between the Southern railroad and the Lawrenceville road. He is negotiating for a tract lying at the junction of the Southern and G. J. & S. rail roads, which tract will include Mrs. Hutchins' place. We understand Mr. Smith intends to spend some thing like $100,000 in his enterprise—perhaps more.

We call special attention to the advertisement on the fourth page of this issue of Crown Mountain Gold Mining and Milling Co. The management of this company is all that could be desired for the successful operation of a gold mine. The merits of the properties embraced in the company are too well known to the citizens here to need any thing further from us. To those unacquainted with the properties and their surroundings, the best evidence of their real merits is that many of the best citizens of this place, of all classes, have taken stock in the company. The amount of stock has only been limited by their means. We believe and earnestly hope that the prediction of Dr.

Stephenson' 'That there is millions in it,' will soon be realized.

Another new company known as the Standard Gold Mining Co., has made application for a charter for the purpose of operating in Lumpkin county. It is capitalized at $5,000,000, having already 5000 acres of valuable mineral property in this county, one of them being the Tahloneka property located across the creek and adjoining the Consolidated Co.'s property where the large mill and chlorination plant are located. The stockholders of the new company are principally those owning stock in the Consolidated Co. The new company proposes to erect another big mill of 120 stamps with a capacity of 600 tons per day, which goes to show that it will be a big enterprise. The names of those embodied in the petition is sufficient evidence that the enterprise will be a successful one, as these gentlemen have never been known to make a failure in anything they have undertaken yet. Already having a large amount of money invested in Lumpkin county's mining enterprises, plainly shows that they have the utmost confidence in this industry here and are perfectly willing to risk much more in starting up another. This is encouraging and should clearly convince the "tenderfooted" beyond the shadow of a doubt that Lumpkin county's gold mines are safe investments.

7th. They desire the right to contract for, lease, buy and hold such real estate as may be useful or proper in the conduct of their business, and to sell, lease, mortgage, or otherwise encumber the same, to issue bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness as the interests of the corporation may suggest and its Board of Directors may determine.

8th. They desire, as such corporation, to have the right to sue and be sued; to have and use a common seal; to make and prescribe such regulations and by-laws for its government as may be useful or proper and not contrary to law; to constitute and elect a Board of Directors, and such officers as are usual and as may be prescribed by such by-laws; and they further desire all general powers and privileges which may be conferred upon and are incident to corporations of said state of Georgia, which by-laws are chartered by the Superior Courts.

9th. The principal office of said corporation shall be at Dahlonega, in said County of Lumpkin, State of Georgia, and the petitioners desire the right to establish and maintain a branch office at Columbus, Ohio, and at Toledo, Ohio, and elsewhere, and the stockholders may, from time to time, elect to establish.

Wherefore petitioners pray to be made a body corporate under the name and style aforesaid and that a charter be granted them conferring the rights, privileges and powers herein set forth and petitioned for.

PRICED & CHARTERS.

Petitioners attorneys.

GEORGIA—Lumpkin County.

To the Superior Court of said county: The petition of J. W. Adams, of Chattanooga, Tennessee; Frank G. Thomson, of Toledo, Ohio; George H. Breymann, of Toledo, Ohio; E. H. Adams, of Delaware, Ohio; R. C. Thomson, of Dahlonega, Georgia; and H. D. Ingessell, of Dahlonega, Georgia, respectfully shew:

1st. That they desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns, to be incorporated under the name and style of "Standard Gold Mining Company."

2nd. They desire to be incorporated for the term of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that time.

3rd. The capital stock of the corporation is to be Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000), divided into shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each.

They desire the right to commence business when ten per cent of their capital stock shall have been subscribed and actually paid in; and they desire to receive in payment of subscriptions money, or property or other thing of value suitable for the uses and business of the corporation.

4th. The object of the corporation is pecuniary gain for its stockholders, and especially—

(a) The business of mining gold, silver, copper, coal or any other metal or mineral, and quarrying marble, granite or any other stone.

(b) Conducting a general mercantile business, buying and selling to its employees and the public, goods, wares and merchandise, machinery, mining supplies and utensils.

(c) Developing water powers, generating electricity, establishing and maintaining electric plants, furnishing and selling electric light and power to municipal and private corporations, and to the public at large.

(d) Establishing and maintaining water works for the purpose of supplying municipalities and persons with water for sanitary, drinking, manufacturing, mining and other purposes.

(e) Constructing and operating a telephone line or system from its works and mines at or near Dahlonega, Georgia, to some point on the line of the Southern Railway at or near Gainesville; and constructing and maintaining such other telephone lines or systems as may be deemed to be expedient.

(f) Constructing, equipping and maintaining such electric, steam or other railroad or railroads for transportation as may be necessary or convenient for the use of the corporation in the prosecution of its enterprise.

(g) Manufacturing cotton, wool, timber or other material into such articles as are used in commerce and trade.

(h) Contracting for, or aiding in, the building and construction of electric, steam or other railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, mills, factories, buildings, edifices, and carrying on the general business of a contractor.

(i) Buying and selling real estate and other property with a view of making a profit for its stockholders.

(j) Carrying on the business of sawing and lumbering.

5th. They desire the right to promote and organize other subsidiary corporations having in view the accomplishment of the various objects above set forth, and, to that end, to subscribe to and purchase the capital stock of such subsidiary corporations, having always in view that the subscription to and purchase of such capital stock shall in no wise be for the purpose of having the effect of defeating or lessening competition, or encouraging monopoly in their respective businesses.

6th. They desire the right to do all such acts and things, and to exercise all such powers as are necessary or proper in the conduct of their business, and in effectuating the various objects of the corporation.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MR. 23 1900.

Wanted, a pair of good mules by B. R. Meaders & Sons.

The Nugget office is the place to get all kinds of blanks.

The most complete line of clothing in the city at Anderson & Jones', and prices lower than the lowest.

As soon as warm weather appears many people who are unable to get houses in Dahlonega now will buy tents and live in them.

Just received the freshest and most varied, solid and plated jewelry in town at B. R. Meaders & Sons.

D. A. Pirkle, Henry Sheriff and Geo. Bart, defaulting witnesses in the U. S. Court, were arrested and carried to Atlanta yesterday by Marshal Grizzle.

Last weeks the pretty spring like weather came to a very sudden close by a light snow here. The Blue Ridge was perfectly white on Monday morning.

Our spring shoes are fine and as usual, the price is lower than the same shoes are sold on the railroad. Examine them and find we are right.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Won't it be nice when the wood working establishment begins operation in Dahlonega so all the door and window frames, etc., desired, can be had without having to be bought in Gainesville and hauled twenty-five miles?

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Meaders, after an absence of several weeks down at Swainsboro, returned to Dahlonega last week, both enjoying good health. Mr. Meaders was interested in a drove of mules and horses and found a ready sale for all he carried off.

Thursday as we go to press they have sent in for Dr. Wheelchel to go out in the country to see W. C. Crow who attempted to commit suicide by badly cutting his throat while off from the house a short distance. It is said that you can hear him get his breath some ten or fifteen steps. He won't talk and tell why he did it.

Underwood & Hunter have purchased the barbers outfit used in the shop at the Hall store block, which, added to their already good outfit, makes it one of the best equipped barber shops ever opened out in Dahlonega, enabling them to turn off work in first class style. When needing a nice clean shave or an up to date hair cut Underwood & Hunters shop is the place to get it.

It is high time that the city authorities were making some arrangements for a larger cemetery. There are only a few vacant lots left now, which are held at twenty dollars a lot. The portion for the benefit of the public is about all occupied, leaving those with no money to purchase a lot in bad shape. Let some more ground be secured as early as possible for the benefit of the poor.

Col. H. P. Farrow is making preparations to secure the posts before the rising ripers for his telephone line from Porter Springs to Dahlonega, so as to have it ready for his summer guests. Won't it be nice for the people to sit up there at that delightful summer resort at the foot of the Blue Ridge and listen to our large stamp mills crushing out the precious metal which is found here in such large quantities?

Last Friday while the wind was whistling and the ground freezing Floyd Wheelchel, of Hall county, decided to take on a little "mountain tea" to keep from getting too cold, and the result was that he got so warm that he bent in every imaginable shape, who was soon thereafter put into the lock-up until he could cool off and get in shape again. The mayor charged only a nominal amount for the treatment given him.

Mrs. Joseph Singleton is quite sick at her daughters, Mrs. E. R. Cook.

You will find plows, plowstocks, plow horse collars, hoes, rope etc., at G. McGuire.

Mrs. Cartledge will vacate Hall's Villa next week and go to Atlanta, but the building won't be vacant long.

Come to Dahlonega if you want to see a prosperous place brought about by the development of her rich gold mines.

Smith Bros., at Porter Springs, are still giving their customers splendid bargains, and it is the place to trade at if you wish to do well.

Carpenters, if you wish to contract for the building of a house in Dahlonega 14x28, with an ell 12x14, write to Smith Bros., Porter Springs.

The managers decided this week to add six more rooms to the company's big hotel. They wish to accommodate as many guests as possible, for they are aware that every hotel in Dahlonega will be crowded this summer.

Notwithstanding beef cattle are high and hard to get in Dahlonega our market men are trying to hold the price of steak down at ten cents per pound, but the profit is so short that they have to stop the cat holes in their market doors when they leave the shop.

Your attention is directed to the ad. of J. S. Newkirk & Co., to be found in this issue. These gentlemen have recently moved here from the city of Brunswick, located among us and now ask a liberal share of your patronage, whenever wanting anything in the family grocery line give them a call and you will be treated so as to cause you to go there again.

We understand that the Consolidated Co. will light up the main street with electric lights from Capt. Ingersoll's down to the Hand mine, then in the near future it is hoped that the city fathers will be able to light up every street in the city, and we feel confident that it will be done, for Dahlonega is too prosperous a place for her citizens to have to walk about in the dark.

Rev. W. Lee, of Toccoa, Ga., the divine selected by the presbyterians of Dahlonega to preach for them this year, delivered his first sermon here last Sunday. The new Presbyterian church not being quite ready he occupied the Methodist church pulpit. There was a large congregation present of various denominations, all of whom were highly pleased with the sermon, which is said to be one of the ablest and most interesting ever delivered in Dahlonega.

Quite likely the jubilee which was to have taken place in Dahlonega on the 2nd and 3rd day of May will be postponed until some later period on account of so much rainy weather which retarded all kinds of work in this section. Mayor Price requests us to state that he will give an official notice as soon as the president and directors of the Consolidated Co. get ready, but says that the committees can go on with their work. Our citizens want to be able to care for all who wish to meet us on that occasion comfortably and make it a pleasure to them but do not feel that they can do so at such an early date.

There being so few children attending Sunday School in Dahlonega that the pastors of each church and the superintendent of each school have decided to appoint enumerators to take the church census of the city—blanks having already been printed—and ascertain why parents do not send their children to Sunday School. There being a larger attendance along about the end of the year when a Christmas tree is expected than during the spring and summer season is an evident fact that a great many parents allow their children to go out and rob birds nests instead of forcing them to attend Sunday School.

Marshal Anderson commenced his new house first of the week.

E. Hettrick, of Toledo, Ohio, spent several days in Dahlonega this week looking over the mines.

At B. R. Meaders & Sons you will find nice sugar cane syrup at 40 cents per gallon.

Another suit was filled in the clerk's office this week being W. B. Owen vs. Tessie Owens, libel for divorce.

Fine mountain Irish potatoes, Eastern seed potatoes, onion sets and garden seeds at G. McGuire, corner Main & Derrick Streets.

The first day of spring opened up warm and pleasant, but in the afternoon it turned cold and the next morning we had plenty of ice.

Judge Tate informs us that the new road by the Garnet mine bridge will be ready for the traveling public by to-morrow.

G. H. McGuire, the jeweler, has a horse, sewing machine and an organ for which he wishes to exchange for lumber and rather than miss a trade will take money for them.

John Hester, Lumpkin county's blind blockader who has been serving out a sentence of several months in Fulton county jail for making liquor, returned home last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Crawford, of Blue Ridge, have been here at the bedside of their sick son who has been down with fever for near two weeks. We are glad to state that he is improving.

Old Uncle Levi Mote, who resided few miles above Dahlonega, had a second stroke of paralysis Sunday which caused his death in a day or so afterwards. He was a good old man and was liked by all his acquaintances.

A charter for a telephone line from Dahlonega to Gainesville via Auraria, will soon be asked for by Drs. Jones, Cravens and merchant Joe Miller. This will give parties all along the line of this much thickly settled section an opportunity to communicate with the outside world.

Julia Townsend, who was sentenced to the chain gang at the last term of the court and afterwards made her escape from the jail and "flew to the mountains" of North Carolina, has returned but the sheriff is powerless to do anything with her just at this time, and she will go free for a few more months.

The suit which was about to be brought against the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co., by Mrs. Tom Lemly for $5,000 damages, on account of her husband's death recently, caused by injuries received while working at the Hand mine a while before Christmas, has been compromised by the company paying her $500.

"Shotgun" Walker and E. P. Haden seem to be on the war path again. Walker swore out four warrants and placed them in the hands of the sheriff last Monday, one for carrying a pistol, one for pointing a pistol at him, one for selling wine and the other requiring the old man to keep the peace. The trial was to have taken place yesterday.

The following officers have recently been promoted in the Battalion of cadets of the N. G. A. College: Sergeants: W. T. Farrow, W. O. Fleming, G. B. McCleskey, R. M. Blount, F. C. Powell, H. L. Newton, H. B. Howard, N. H. Maddox. Corporals: J. A. Johnston, A. C. Whitehead, P. J. Horton, M. H. Cox, J. C. Barnes, W. W. Scott, M. P. Monroe, C. E. Martin, Carter Edmondson, A. D. Hilliard.

Ex Solicitor Howard Thompson, of Gainesville, was in the city this week. We wouldn't be a bit surprised to soon learn that the Colonel has a connoisseur bee in his hat, though he didn't make the least intimation of such a thing to us. It is an evident fact that some of the people of the 9th District desire a change in congress, but whether it is a majority or not we are unable to say.

Miss Mamie Watts and Mr. Frank Adams were wedded in Dahlonega last Sunday by Esquire W. J. Worley.

A very interesting article written on the subject of education by V. R. Hicks will be found on the first page of to-days issue.

Mr. Andrew Hatfield, residing a few miles above Dahlonega, was wedded to Miss Emily King last Saturday by Rev. Amzi Stargel in Dahlonega.

We learn that very soon the partition in the Hall Mds Co's block, where the barber shop was located, will be removed and a drug store opened out in that portion used for an office by Mr. Mathews who is a regular druggist. The stock to be entirely new.

W. B. Shropshire, W. E. Candler and A. S. Kinkey, who are interested in mining over in Union county, came over last week and spent several days here in inspecting our mining operations. They were perfectly delighted with the Consolidated Co's big mill and other operations.

Just as soon as the lumber can be procured Capt. F. W. Hall will erect a nice cottage opposite the old tan yard on lot formerly owned by C. A. Besser. Then later on in the summer he will put up a beautiful residence on his lot between what is known as the Hope house and his recently built storage house.

M. Kingsbury, who has been stopping at Auraria ever since he came to Lumpkin county, has built him a nice cottage out at the Kerns mine, four miles from that place, and has probably moved to it by this time. This is another evidence that this mine is paying, otherwise Mr. Kingsbury would be going the other way.

The 300 grape vines presented to the N. G. A. College by Judge Gohar have been received and are in the hands of a committee to attend to. After awhile when the vineyard gets to bearing won't it be nice to think about living in a city having an institution which not only furnishes boys and girls with a free education but all the grapes they can eat while securing it?

It is rumored that an effort will be made by some of the stock law men to get the council to pass a city ordinance preventing the cows from running at large. This is probably because a majority of the councilmen favor it. Officials are supposed to be servants of the people and if a law is passed not wanted by a majority of the people it looks to us that it would be an imposition upon them to do a thing of this kind simply because they have the power to do it. The fairest way to do this would be to let it be an issue at the next election.

It is said that they had a right lively time over at Joe Sullins', in the eastern portion of Lumpkin county the other night, during Prof. Will Palmers show, consisting of left handed music by the showman, magic lantern, etc. George Teal was blacked and while acting the clown some one insulted him, which resulted in blows. Recruits were added, causing Prof. Palmer to come to the rescue of his clown, and being left handed got in his heels where they were least expected. During the time one of the Waldens made a miss kick and struck his sisters baby on the nose, causing it to bleed. This enraged the mother who, as she handed the child to her husband said, "Take the baby! If you won't whip him I will." The husband preferring holding the baby to fighting, complied with his wife's request, and it was not long till the lady was pounding away on her brother with both fists, like women do when they go to make up a feather bed. After awhile order was restored and as soon as Prof. Palmer declared peace an examination was made and no one was found scratched or hurt except the baby. Now everything is calm and serene at "Fighting Town" once more.

Call and see our line of clothing and be convinced that we are in the lead. ANDERSON & JONES.

Our city fathers will find that substantial improvements on the streets are the cheapest in the long run.

A large number of witnesses and defendants from Lumpkin county have been attending U. S. Court in Atlanta this week.

We believe that the recent cold spell kept the peach trees from blooming, which will enable us to have a large yield of fruit this year.

T. S. Waters, of Gainesville, came up after his wife and children last Sunday, who had been spending a week or so with relatives.

Little George Sissum received last week the sad intelligence of the death of his father, David O. Sissum, which occurred at Skenna, Fannin county, last Friday.

Mrs. Miller is going to open up a hotel at Auraria. This shows that the people of Lumpkin county are awake all along the line and that prosperity stares them in the face on every side.

All our merchants are filling their shelves with spring goods, getting ready for the big rush of trade we are going to have this year. Those that invite customers into their stores through an ad. in the NUGGET will be strictly in it.

Your attention is called to the ad. this week of J. H. Moore, who will be found in the Williams old stand in the Meaders block, with a nice supply of beef, pork, sausage, etc. In addition to his market Mr. Moore has a nice line of family groceries which will be sold at reasonable prices. Call on him when wanting anything in his line. He will treat you right.

A drummer was in Dahlonega trying to sell receipts for making either whisky or brandy the other day. One drop of the chemicals from either sample he carried in water would make a glass full of which ever you prefer it and produce that blessed feeling. It is said that a person can get on a drunk using this at half the usual price, but after awhile when it commences to burn out the copper it will require the heavy expense of some doctor to keep your light from going out.

There is yet one old time gentleman residing in Dahlonega who was raised up when eighteen year old boys went barefooted until Christmas and girls after assisting their mothers in cooking made music on the spinning wheel. The other day this old man discovered one of his girls rubbing something on her face. "What are you doing there, daughter?" enquired the excited father. "Rubbing flour on my face to keep it from chapping" was the reply. "Just stop it. Flour is too high to waste," exclaimed the old gentleman.

N. C. Tankesley came up from Auraria last Saturday to get his pension check of fifty dollars, the amount allowed him by the state for injuries received from a wound at the first battle of Manassas while fighting for the Confederate cause, and as usual "Bony" called on the NUGGET man and made him feel happy to the tune of one dollar. This battle occurred on the 21st of July, 1861, but the old soldier has a camp stool now which was captured on that day by a fellow comrade, belonging to an officer of the enemy during the fearful struggle. This stool was presented to him last week by a lady now residing in Lumpkin county, the gift of which Mr. Tankesley appreciates very much. The young soldier capturing the stool, early after the battle, presented it to this lady to whom he was engaged to marry. In the next battle he lost his life. Long after the surrender her affections were won by another gentleman and they married, but the lady still kept this stool in memory of the one who gave it to her until she came to Lumpkin county and recently learning that Mr. Tankesley was on that same bloody field, gave it to him.

Marshal Grizzle seized a big still near Dora Barnes' last Friday.

Old lady Frix died in Nimbelle district last Monday night aged 95.

Arveta Sullins was given four months imprisonment for making liquor last week.

Charlie Moore has accepted a position in John H. Moore's store to begin the first of next month.

They are now at work on the lower tube of the Hand canal near Jess Turners on Clarkesville road.

C. W. Satterfield is receiving lumber for his new residence which will be built by Mr. Hunter, of Atlanta.

As we go to press we learn that there is a big crowd of northern capitalists on their way here and are expected every moment.

Miss Mary Postell and Mr. Walter Ward were united in the holy bonds of matrimony last Monday evening by Rev. J. J. Shed.

At B. R. Meaders & Sons: fancy tumblers 3 1-3, photo frames pretty 5, steel bar coffee mills, holding a pound 32, window shades cheap and high.

Nimbelle will district of the county as it is said about 28 defendants from it are attending court now in Atlanta.

They moved into the Bostwick Hall last Wednesday and hereafter the building will be used for the different departments for which it was built.

Mr. Dale, of Harmony Grove, has made arrangements to move his saw mill and planing machine here and prepare Prof. Boyd's lumber for his new residence.

Last Wednesday little Will Ward had the flesh of his hands torn up considerably by the explosion of a dynamite cap which he was picking with a piece of wire.

There is an ordinance preventing citizens from keeping wood on the streets, and yet about a cord to be used in the council chamber has been piled up on the public square at the court house near a week.

It seems to be a hard matter to get a place to build a new calaboose in Dahlonega without it being too close to parties not wanting it—in fact there is no one who wants a calaboose close to their premises. We understand that Capt. Hall expects to put up a building on the corner of his lot near the old Baptist church and will enter his protest against it being built near there. So will J. F. Moore, who recently purchased property near the place last selected for it.

Card of Thanks.

ED. NUGGET:—

We wish to express our gratitude and thanks to relatives and friends who so kindly offered their aid during the sickness of our little girl. We trust that divine providence will shield their little ones from death so that they may live to brighten the home.

From a human standpoint it seems hard to have to give little Lena up, but we have the assurance that our little girl rests in the arms of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

MR. AND MRS. J. H. JENKINS.

Come To Us, Dear Fillices.

Dear Fillices, you do not know what a good thing you are missing by not wanting to become citizens of this grand country of ours. There isn't anything like it under the sun. You ought to send a delegation over here to see us—this land is of free this land of the churches and 400,000 licensed saloons, forts and guns; millionaires and paupers, theologians and thieves, libertines and lars, Christians and chain gangs, politicians and poverty, schools and sealaws, trusts and tramps, virtue and vice. A land where you can get a Bible for fifteen cents and a drink of bad whiskey for five cents, where we have men in Congress with three wives and a lot in jail for having two wives; where some make sausage of their wives and some want to eat them blood raw; where we can make belogna sausage of dogs, canned beef of horses and sick cows, and corpses of the people that eat it; where we put a man in jail for not having the means of support, and on the rock pile for asking for a job of work; where we have a Congress of four hundred men to make laws and a Superior Court of nine men to set them aside; where good men make bad whiskey and good whiskey makes bad men; where newspapers are paid for suppressing the truth and made rich for telling a lie; where professors draw their convictions and salaries from the same source; where business consists in getting property in any way that won't land you in the penitentiary; where trusts hold you up and poverty holds you down; where men vote for what they do not want for fear they will get what they do want by voting for it; where niggers can vote and white women can't; where the girl who goes wrong is an outcast and her male partner flourishes as a gentleman; where the women wear false hair, and men cock the horses' tail; where the political wire-puller has displaced the political statesman, where men vote for one thing one day and cuss it for three hundred and sixty-five days; where we have prayers on the floors of the national capitol, and whiskey in the basement; where we spend five thousand dollars to bury a congressman who is rich and ten dollars to bury a workman who is poor; where to be virtuous is to be lonesome, and to be honest is to be called a crank; where gold is substance—the one thing sought for—and God is a waste-basket for our better thoughts and resolutions; where we pay fifteen thousand dollars for a dog and fifteen cents a dozen to a poor woman for making shirts; where we teach the "untutored Indian" eternal life from the Bible and kill him with bad whiskey; where we put a man in jail for stealing a loaf of bread, and in congress for stealing a railroad; where the check-book talks, sin walks in broad day light, justice is asleep, crime runs amuck, corruption permeates our social fabric, and the devil laughs from every street corner.

Come to us, Fillices! We've got the grandest aggregation of good things, big and little things, cold and hot things, soft things and hard things, all sizes, varieties and colors ever exhibited under one tent. We've got more guns and more whiskey than any two shows on earth. If you don't come we'll fetch you that's what our guns are for. Of course, when you fellows join us, you will have to stop eating each other. You will be our meat men. Our people won't stand it to see a lot of good meat wasted that way. You can eat dog bologna or canned horse meat; it will be almost as healthy, and will expand our meat trade. Come to our arms.—Druzz Saw, 112, in Railroad Trainers' Journal.

"I am so afraid of lightning," said a handsome coquet during a thunder shower. "And well you might be," rejoined one of her victims. "You have a heart of steel."

She Decided to Remain.

"I will," she exclaimed, "I will not live with you another day!" "You leave me, will you?" he calmly asked. "Yes, I will." "When?" "Now—right off—this minute." "You'll go away?" "Yes, sir." "Won't it if I were you?" "But I will, and I defy you to prevent me; I have suffered at your hands as long as I can stand it." "Oh, I shan't try to stop you," he quietly replied. "I'll simply report to the police that my wife has mysteriously disappeared. They'll want your description and I will give it. You wear a No. 7 shoe; you have an extra large mouth; you walk stiff in your knees; your nose turns up at the end; eyes rather on the quaint; voice like a—"

"Wretch, you wouldn't dare do that!" she screamed.

"I certainly will, and the description will go in all the papers." They glared each other a moment in silence. Then it was plain to be seen he had the dead wood on her.—Columbus Journal.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Ott Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to the neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. While a student at Norwich University Admiral Dewey took lessons in painting in water color and proved an apt pupil. He produced several promising bits of work, mostly marine sketches, one of which has been rescued from oblivion, and in a large frame, now adorns the walls of one of the University's class rooms.—Ex.

Senator Vest has a notebook filled with rare examples of Congressional eloquence, among which his favorite quotation to illustrate mixed metaphors is: "The apple of discord has been sown in our midst, and unless nipped in the bud it will produce a configuration whose waves will submerge this fair land with anarchy."—Ex.

AN ORDINANCE

To Raise Supplies for the Support of the City School for the year 1900; To Pay Interest on the School Bonds, and For Other Purposes.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Dahlonga, that the following taxes are hereby levied on all the personal and real estate within said city, to-wit: Within a radius of one mile from the court house; that is to say, the sum of Sixty Cents on each and every one hundred dollars of the assessed value of real estate, and a like sum on all the personal property of every kind, owned or possessed by any one within said limits, on the first day of February last.

Be it further ordained, That said tax shall become due and payable on the first day of July next. After which date the city assessors shall place a sale, fair and equitable valuation upon all property not returned by the owner or agent, and double the said valuation, and enter said double valuation upon the tax digest, with an entry thereon, showing that the same was double taxed.

Be it further ordained, That the city tax assessors shall have printed blank returns, and to furnish each and every tax payer a copy who may call on them for the same, which return shall contain an oath by the taxpayer, or agent, shall subscribe his or her name when the return is made. Said tax assessors are required by law to give public notice when they will file to receive returns, and when their books will close.

Be it further ordained, That all taxes shall be paid on or before the first day of October, 1900, when execution for unpaid taxes shall promptly issue against all persons who have not paid their taxes as herein required.

Done by order of the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Dahlonga, this 8th day of March, 1900.

W. P. PRICE, Mayor.
W. J. WORLEY, City Clerk.

The middle of the road Populist have called a meeting in Atlanta, on the 17th of April next, for the middle-of-the-road national convention and to put out a full State ticket for Governor and State House officers. No one has yet been selected stated as the candidate for Governor. The Populist are now deviled, but it remains to be seen as to how far the split will go.—Danielsville Monitor.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold, we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result, we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill. For Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Menkley, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by F. W. THE Crown Mountain Gold Mining & Milling Co.

A. J. WARNER, President,
J. H. MOORE, Vice-President,
J. F. MOORE, Sec. & Treas.

Capitalized at $2,000,000. The Par Value of Shares $100 Each.

Main Office: Dahlonga, Ga.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonga district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Mining Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interests in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district, which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonga and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have ever been organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directors are for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the management of mines and mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a rich gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of this company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is many times compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

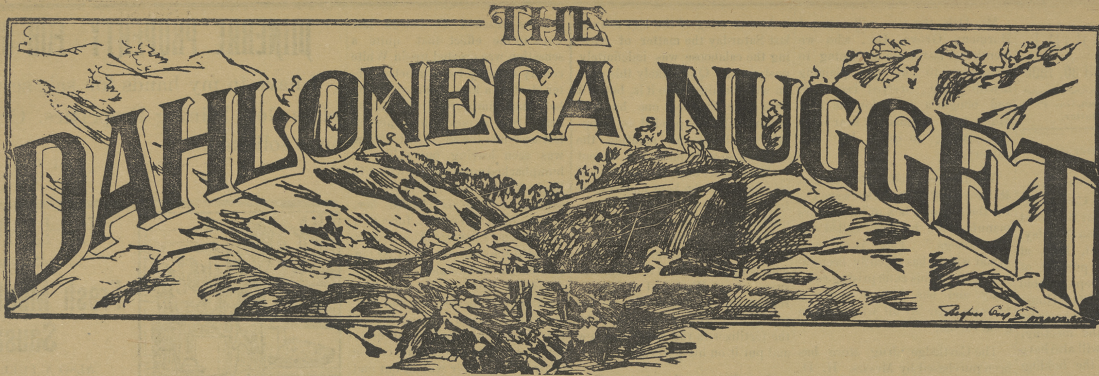

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of $25.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. Moore, Vice-President, or to J. H. Moore, Dahlonga, Ga., or to J. F. Moore, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or to Gen. A. J. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

Newspaper Laws.

Once in a while it is well to remind the public of Newspaper
Laws, for their own protection.
For instance, many people think that if a paper comes to them without their subscribing, it is a free thing. Not so. If a paper gets your name, sends you its regular copies, and you take them from the office, you are bound by a stringent law to pay for it. Should any person receive a paper for which he has not subscribed, unless that paper is distinctly marked "sample copy" he is responsible for the payment of the same taken from the office. In addition, if the first copy is taken from the office, he is bound to pay for all the papers the publisher may choose to send until arrears are paid.

Following are the laws:

1. Subscribers who do not give positive orders to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuation of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed they are responsible until they have settled their bill and ordered them discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers and the papers are sent to the former address, they are responsible.
5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of fraud.
6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until specific notice with payment are arrears is sent to the publisher. —Ex.

Field Day Exercises.

The contests for field day have been decided upon and are as follows: Standing and running broad jump; standing and running hop-step-jump; standing and high jump;
pole vault for height; pole vault for distance; three standing long jumps; sack race; one hundred yards dash; catching greased pig;
tag of war; relay race.

The relay race is a new feature at this institution, but will be entered into with much spirit by the different classes. The race will be run on Cooper Gap road, and will consist of five relays, each relay containing a representative from each class, and each relay to run one mile and turn the race over to his class representative at the beginning of the next relay. The contest will be one of endurance and it will be an honor to the class that wins. The prize will be a banner to be given to the winning class as a permanent trophy of their victory.

The merchants of the town and the faculty have shown their appreciation of interest taken in athletics by offering appropriate and useful prizes for each of the contests.

The citizens and public in general are cordially invited to be present at the exercises which will take place on the college drill field, beginning at 8.30 a. m. and closing at 12.30 p. m., the relay race taking place in the afternoon.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MARCH 30, 1900

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Attention Democrats.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Lumpkin County, is hereby called, to meet at the Court House in Dahlonega on Monday, the 16th day of April, 1900, at twelve o'clock, for the purpose of taking the necessary steps to hold primary elections for State House officers and for other business as may come before the meeting. At said meeting steps will also have to be taken looking to the holding of primary elections in said County, for members of the Legislature and County officers.

Notice is also given that the Democratic State Executive Committee, at its meeting recently held in Atlanta, have called a primary election to be held in every County in the State on the 15th day of May next for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor and other State House officers, at which election an opportunity will also be given the voters to express their choice for United States Senator. The said Committee provided that all white qualified voters who would agree to abide the result of said primary and support the nominees be allowed to participate in said election, but as a prerequisite to doing so, such voters must have registered by May 5th.

It is therefore very important that every Democrat in Lumpkin County register before the time named and all voters who expect to participate in said primary election are earnestly urged to register.

H. C. WHEELER,

Chairman Democratic Ex. Com.

Hard Cider Must Pay.

Collector Ruecker has received a communication from the department at Washington relative to ciders which have spirits, and holding that they are subject to tax as spirits. The ruling, which is an important one to all dealers in cider, is in part as follows:

"These compounds or adulterations are composed of sugar, tartaric acid or vinegar, wine, sulphate of lime, water, etc. and cherry, orange, peach, or other fruit, extracts to flavor the mixture or adulterations so as to produce the various kinds of so-called cider, peach cider, etc., as desired.

"While the regulations of the office relating to rectifiers apply to the manufacturer of the adulterations described to the extent of rendering the manufacturer of, as well as the dealer in the same, liable to special taxes, they do not apply to pure cider nor to the unfermented juice of the grape, peach, pear or other fruits. Any regulations inconsistent with the above heretofore issued by this office, is hereby revoked."

A special circular has also been received calling attention to articles other than those provided by law in packages of tobacco, snuff and such things. It says:

"None of the packages of smoking tobacco and finest chewing tobacco and cigarettes prescribed by law shall be permitted to have packed or attached to, or connected with them, any article or thing whatsoever, other than the manufacturers' wrappers and labels, the internal revenue stamp and the tobacco or cigarettes, respectively, put up therein, on which tax is required to be paid under the internal revenue laws nor shall there be affixed to, or branded stamped, written or printed upon, said package, or their contents, any promise or offer of, or any order or certificate for any gift, prize premium payment or reward."

The collector is instructed to notify manufacturers that the above statutory provisions must be strictly observed, and all tobacco cigarettes removed from the factory in disregard thereof, found in the possession of the manufacturer or his agent's stamp bearing cancellation on and after the 20th prox., will be seized for forfeiture.

Mr. Dale, the saw mill man of Harmony Grove, Ga., who we mentioned last week as coming to Dahlonega to put up a planing machine, etc., arrived last week and bought a lot below the Hall Mide Co's magazine, near Mechanicsville, to place his machinery.

We are indebted to the firm of Riddle, Craft & Co., Delaware O., for the gift of a box of fine cigars manufactured by them, called the "Dahlonega." This is a new brand which has recently been introduced by this enterprising company and has become quite a favorite cigar by all who enjoy a good smoke.

The Cartledge drug store has been purchased by Messrs. H. D. and W. E. Matthews, who will continue to do business at the old stand under the firm name of Gursley Drug Co. Mr. Matthews, the clever and accommodating pharmacist, a graduate of pharmacy, will have charge of the prescription department. They expect to give the people of Dahlonega a first class, up to date drug store, and ask for a liberal share of your patronage. See ad. elsewhere.

But few cases of blockaders from Lumpkin were tried last week in the U. S. court as several of them forfeited their bonds—some because they dreaded the jail and others because they didn't want to miss making a crop. However one of the witnesses who attended from Dahlonega got to take a ride in Black Mariah, but it wasn't a free trip. It cost him $5.75 which would have been paid in breaking rock had it not been for some of his friends. They don't take trade checks for fines in Atlanta.

Frequently after an excursion of northern gentlemen come to Dahlonega and get through looking after their mining and other interests here, they send for a negro musician and a dancer and spend several hours interestingly watching their movements, for there are but few of them who visit us but what enjoy seeing a Georgia negro dance who, when he is given a few nickles, and dimes dances and cuts so many capers that his head looks like it would fly out of socket almost. A gathering of this kind met at the Hall House last Saturday night where several hours were enjoyed very pleasantly. Ed. Austin made $2.65 for dancing and was so stiff the next morning that he had to be bathed all over in liniment before he could either smile or move.

Those who have the money and are in a position to know say that we are certain to have a railroad to Dahlonega next summer. While Dr. J. W. Smith, of Pontiac, Mich., was in Dahlonega he paid the Nugget office a business visit last Monday and informed us that he was going to visit New York as soon as he arrived home to see about getting the iron. The Doctor said he made an effort to get the iron last year but it was a complete failure. A while before it was decided to build a railroad here he had a large quantity of iron, only costing about fifteen dollars per ton which he disposed of before it was known that he would need it for the Dahlonega road. Afterwards, when he started out to get iron for this road, the price had advanced to thirty five and thirty-six dollars per ton, and no iron would agree then to fill the order earlier than two years. The Doctor thinks he can get it now and is going back again. He says that he has a place in view far away where he can get the iron as soon as navigation opens but doesn't want to wait. This iron has been used a little but is as good as new but the track has not been taken up. Dr. Smith is a wide awake business gentleman and we are glad that he has become interested in the mining and other enterprises of this country. He owns stock in the Consolidated Co., and says that he is going to become interested in other mines here.

At a meeting of the city council last Saturday the matter of moving the calaboose was indefinitely postponed. Quite likely this prison will remain where it is, but if it does some fifty or one hundred dollars will be expended in properly ventilating and painting the building so as to make it a decent looking place, and the door will be required to be kept locked so as to prevent the cows from taking quarters there of cold rainy nights. Its present condition is a disgrace to any civilized community. And who is to blame for it? Echo answers who? We heard the mayor remark the other day that if the public were willing he would take the fertilizer in the calaboose now and put it on his garden.

Our office was visited last Friday by Messrs. E. C. Recor and J. E. Worden, of Detroit, Mich.; James Sanders, of Petrolia, Ont.; Joseph Briggs, of Briggsdale, O. All are interested in the Consolidated Co., and came down to see the progress that is being made in the erection of their big mining plant, each of whom seemed to be well pleased. They represent different cities showing that it is not only the people from one place that are interested in the Georgia gold mines but men from various portions of the country. We like to see such gentlemen as the above interested here for they are full of vim and energy, have good judgment and plenty of money to back it.

When old man Cowart died in the outskirts of Dahlonega, the other day, it is said that his relatives could not get a single preacher in town to go out into the country three miles to perform the burial ceremony. This is one disadvantage of being poor. Of course the old man is just as well off now as if forty divines had gone, but it makes his relatives feel bad. Had this departed one been rich the house would have been crowded from the time he got sick until he was carried to the grave yard and numbers of preachers would have volunteered their services and talked over his body until forced to stop by the appearance of evening shades. Home folks are neglected while the far off heathens get attention.

A young fellow by the name of Dixon, who has been going to college here for some time conducted himself in such a manner it is said, towards a young lady that he had to be expelled. Then he seemed to continue his downward course till he got into worse trouble and had to leave to keep from being prosecuted. When expelled he stayed at the dormitory. He went from there to J. H. Moores where, soon afterwards, one of his roommates, Mr. Sheets, missed seven dollars from his trunk. Dixon was at once suspected and after the arrival of night watchman Coffee he agreed to pay the amount back and make arrangements to settle five dollars which had been taken from some of the boys two weeks previous if they wouldn't prosecute him. So the compromise was agreed to and he left out at once, and will eventually land into the chain gang if he does not change his course, for he will not always find sympathetic people to let him go unpunished in such matters.

H. D. GURLEY.

News reached Dahlonega last week to the effect that quite a sensation was created up in White county recently by a preacher, after stealing a kiss from a young lady made improper proposals to her. She exposed him and at last accounts the so called divine was seen leaving out riding a humpbacked mule, whose wife will likely follow when the one who promised to love and cherish her, settles down. We have forgotten the preachers name. Any how he attended the district meeting in Dahlonega last summer and told the church how good he felt—how the Lord had blessed him and how we must all act so as to be blessed too. He has spoiled it all now. But he is a man and in the course of time this matter will die out and if he is forced to quit expounding the gospel he may go some where and start up a daily newspaper as is the case some times with preachers who have been mistaken very much in their calling.

The Georgia Cracker gives an account of the sudden departure of John H. Bowers of that county last week leaving his wife and children to take care of themselves.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL
WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia. SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MR. 30 1900.

Rev. J. B. Brown is very low with fever.

Col. Price is receiving bids for the completion of the new Baptist church tower.

R. C. Thomson now owns the Wimpy old stand and residence adjoining it.

We believe now that we will enlarge the NUGGET shortly to a seven column paper.

Mrs. Strickland visited Atlanta this week accompanied by her son Call and Mrs. M. G. Head.

Charlie Longstreet cursed, Ben Welborn and Johnie Stevens had a fight, costing each $2 and attachments.

Magic yeast, fresh at Copelands. Also a new barrel of best South Georgia syrup, besides white beans, pickle beans, kraut, butter, potatoes, eggs, &c.

Cadet Townsend got two hot the other day while practicing for the mile race on Field Day. It would be safer if the boys would leave off this long race.

S. A. Peek, who was hurt down at the Hand recently was going to sue the company but the matter was compromised by Mr. Peek being paid $16.00.

Mrs. Strickland, the wife of Hon. Pomp Strickland, of Dawson county and a sister to Mrs. J. F. Castleberry, of Dahlonega, died in that county last Wednesday.

Uncle Dick Wheelchel has optioned his town property to members of the Consolidated Co. The old man has been a resident of Dahlonega more than fifty years.

D. E. Evans, of Gainesville has purchased the Gurley lot which includes the barber shop and residence adjoining merchant Jones store, where he expects to build a large two story brick stable.

While a man named Willbanks of Banks county, was working last Monday assisting in unloading some heavy electric light posts one fell and broke the inside of one of his ankle bones.

Hardie Reese and Charlie Hunter were up before Mayor Price Monday night. Charlie had been drinking too much and Hardie had whipped his sister. It cost the former $8 and the latter $4.

A man named Bone from Gwinnett county is now in jail here caused by too much fighting. After working one day and a half for the Consolidated Co., got an order for his pay and before reaching the cashier changed it to 8 days.

Prof. B. M. Hall, a former professor of the N. G. A. College came up from Atlanta on Wednesday. The professor says that Dahlonega seems more like home to him than any place on earth. Of course we are all always glad to see him.

I am now receiving my Spring Millinery and invite the ladies to call and inspect my stock before buying. I have an Easter hat for every lady in Dahlonega in prices from two to ten dollars in the very latest styles. Sailors and Golfs of the latest shapes.

Mrs. J. M. BROOKSHIER.

The boom is certainly on in Dahlonega right now. Thousands of dollars worth of town and other property change hands every week. Members of the Consolidated and Standard Companies are optioning and buying all the mineral property that they can get hold of in Lumpkin county, and are securing all the business houses and dwellings they can on the square and on both College and Clarksville streets. They are trading for Col. Baker's farm and have bought the Todd mining lot and purchased the mineral interests in the Davis farms. Dr. Howard has also traded them his corner store house and lot. They already had an option on about all of Capt. Hall's town and mineral properties.

Henry Seabolt was bound over this week by Com. Baker for retaining liquor.

Prof. J. W. Stewart has purchased the house and lot which he now occupies from Prof. Wilson, of Savannah.

Dr. Cravans and family are now located at Auraria, being much more convenient to his mine than Dahlonega.

Thomas Smith, a member of the firm of Smith Bros., at Porter Springs, was recently married to a daughter of Allison Smith of White county.

Monday night Prof. Lane, of Atlanta, delivered one of his characteristic humorous lectures at the college. For more than an hour he kept the audience roaring with laughter.

Peruna sellers are getting into trouble up about Toccoa, Ga. Prof. White of the State University has made an examination of this medicine and finds it to contain 35 percent alcohol.

J. E. Tate has just opened up in his new store house with a full stock of goods and asks the continuation of the patronage of his friends. His ad. will appear next week.

Heavy steel square 70c. 26 inch hand saw 40 and 72. Coffee mills 17 and 32, regardless of the advance in steel, these are lower than old prices.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Mary Roberts and Narcissa Stevens, two colored sisters, had a fight last Friday and were caused to come before the mayor. The Lord might have forgiven them but the mayor didn't. It costs each $8.

Marshall Grizzle and Collector Richardson went out this week and captured three stills and arrested Sam Spriggs, Alex Spriggs, Jno. L. Linerfelt and Dave Andrews besides destroying 7,000 gallons of beer.

Turner Quillian, of Hall county, has been awarded the lumber contract for the Standard Co.'s big mills, which is a million feet, being the largest bill of lumber ever received by one man in this whole country.

The colored people had a supper at the church one night last week for the purpose of getting up money for the relief of Jim McMillan, one of their color who is in very needy circumstances—being too old to work and not willing to go to the pauper's home.

FARMING LANDS FOR SALE.—I have for sale a tract of land containing 108 acres, 4 miles East of Dahlonega on Chestatee river a long Soapstone quarry on lot No. 517—50 acres under good fence, 60 young apple and pear trees on place, some bearing fruit.

Charlie Moose was tried last Saturday before Judge Tate and found to be a fit subject for the lunatic asylum. His father thinks it was caused from the lick he received on the head one night by some boys who were rocking him through mischief. Some time afterwards they noticed that he began to lose his mind, gradually growing worse till none of his relatives were able to control him and his father decided to take this step in the matter so he could be sent where he can be properly cared for without endangering himself or any one else.

We publish the newspaper law on our first page in order to post those who may not be acquainted with it. We have not and do not expect to take any advantage of any body on account of this law, for we are certain not to send the NUGGET to a person unless they subscribe or some of their friends. Thank goodness this paper don't have to gain its entrance into a household that way, for it is always a welcome visitor and is read more by the people of Lumpkin county than any other paper published in it or any where else. For those that are not able or are too stingy to take the NUGGET, borrow it.

W. B. Fry moves into his new residence this week.

Solicitor Charters is now in Hivasee attending Towns Superior court.

D. L. Pitner, formerly of Dahlonega, has decided to make Rockford, Ill., his headquarters hereafter.

The Baptist State Convention is now in session at Griffin which is attended by Rev. W. H. Parks, of Dahlonega.

Those dealing in cider, tobacco, cigars and cigars in Dahlonega and elsewhere had better read Collector Ruckers information sent out, published elsewhere.

Gentlemen, if you don't get all the news you desire in the NUGGET send in just a small amount extra and secure either the Atlanta Constitution or Twice-a-week Journal.

Judge Estes, while in Dahlonega last week remarked that the roads were in the worst fix he ever saw them between here and Gainesville. They had all better be looked after before he comes again.

The grading that is being done at the Graded School house helps the looks considerably. The cutting and grading of streets beyond the ridge called West View, where several buildings are being erected are going on at the same time.

We regret to learn of the death of our old friend Wm. Jarrard, which occurred in Porter Springs district last Saturday of pneumonia fever after an illness of three or four days. Other members of the family are also down with the same disease.

Four years ago all the water power up in Chestatee district could have been bought for four or five hundred dollars, remarked a resident of that section the other day. Recently it brought $2,400. This gives an idea of what the mining companies are doing for this section, just now in buying water power alone.

We notice that a man in Atlanta had his neighbor arrested and carried before the recorder the other day because he had a goat that bleated and disturbed him. Suppose that man lived in Dahlonega where the boys are practicing on their brass horns all the time both day and night? Some times playing Home Sweet Home, on the bass horn alone. He would have something to complain of.

G. G. Evans of Wahoo, is like the fellow that had the elephant and didn't know what to do with it. Some time ago he sent in his resignation as postmaster at that place thinking that a Mr. Haines would be appointed and accept it. Since then Mr. Haines has decided to move to other parts and Mr. Evans still holds the office. He makes a good one and we hope he will keep it. No complaint is ever made, for he knows how to do his duty and never neglects it.

W. C. Crow, who attempted to kill himself last week by cutting his throat is still alive and will likely recover although the wounds were made in a very dangerous place, plainly showing that the old gentleman fully intended to end his life in this manner. He cut a long deep gash on either side of his neck and then stuck the knife in his throat where it was found sticking when he was first discovered. Mr. Crow has become too old to do any work scarcely and depends on his pension of fifty dollars he receives a year from the state for a living. Recently he sold his farm in order to get out of debt and his family thinks this was the cause of his rash act, but it may not be the cause as we are told that the old man has not been exactly in his right mind at times for quite a while. His mother went crazy and tried to kill herself we are told before she died, and not long ago one of his daughters drowned herself while in the same condition. And it may have been that his mind would have become unbalanced even if he had never sold out.

A little babe of Jesse Chester died near Dahlonega last Sunday.

Remember the blank options, deeds and other blanks we keep on hand.

You can always find something good to eat if you will call at the store of Frank Reese.

When you want an up to date pair of shoes, or hat go and see Frank L. Reese in the Masonic building.

If you don't like what you see in the NUGGET quit borrowing and reading it. We are not trying to please borrowers.

Stringer & Donaldson, who contracted to build the pillars for the Castleberry bridge, commenced work last Monday.

At Frank Reeses you will find plow stocks, bark collars, hame strings, back bands, trace chains, heel bolts, lap rings, hoes, etc.

Mr. Fingerer, the well known plaster of Gainesville is up here at the Consolidated Cos. big hotel with a good force of hands just making the mud fly.

We understand that marshal Anderson seized another jug of blockade liquor from a man one night last week but we have not learned what was done with the defendant. Of course the liquor was put away to evaporate and waste as the mayor doesn't drink and the marshal is not allowed to.

County School Commissioner Seabolt has been busy several days settling with school teachers—making the first payment. The amount he received was a right handsome little sum, being $1,988,60. $1,000 of this being the appropriation made for school houses.

Messrs. Turner Quillian, R. F. Quillian and Bartow Parks, all of Hall county, came over last week and spent several days with us. The two latter gentlemen used to attend college here which will cause them to always have a warm place in their breasts for old Dahlonega and the grand old institution which yet stands on the hill with doors thrown wide open to the young men and young ladies of Georgia.

The other day when the Sheriff went down to the "Drummers Resort" to serve the proprietress, Mrs. Tessie Owens, with a notice to the effect that her husband had made application for a divorce, he found the inn vacated. This notorious woman had left out no doubt this early before court convenes thinking that maybe the grand jury would forget her past actions, but if the intentions of the people are carried out there will be enough true bills returned against her to make a bundle as large as the old papers she uses for a bundle and false breast.

Frequently the citizens of Dahlonega are called upon to help some needy person. Some are persons who could have had plenty to eat during bad days had they not been too lazy to work while others are in needy circumstances brought about by sickness. The latter need sympathy and assistance while the others don't. This begging business has gotten to be a nuisance. If any are too old to work the ordinary has a good comfortable place provided where they can have plenty to eat and cared for generally by a man who is paid by the county to do so.

Dr. M. N. Stow, of Mineral Bluff, Ga., sends us word that he will move to Dahlonega and hang out his shingle about the middle of April. Dr. Stow is a former citizen of Dahlonega who moved from here several years ago while times were dull to better his condition in a railroad town where he has received a big practice and proven himself to be a first class physician, but since Dahlonega has taken such a rapid rise he wants to come back to his old home so he be among his relatives and old acquaintances. Is why he is making the change. We all extend to him the right hand of fellowship.

Nining Notes.

Z. V. Hewitt has leased and is now operating the Battle Branch mine near Auraria.

If you want to keep posted in mining matters here send one dollar for a years subscription to the NUGGET.

Another caye at the Crescent mine the other day has caused the mill to suspend until it can be removed. They have been troubled with several big cays at this mine but this is the largest one they have ever had.

Christian Wahl, of Milwaukee, Wis., who owns the Whim Hill property near Auraria, arrived in Dahlonega last Monday to look after his interests in this county. Mr. Wahl is the former owner of most of the mining property belonging to the Consolidated Co.

When parties visit Dahlonega in search of mineral property our land owners should not raise their sights too high, for a person can't afford to give all he possesses for a gold mine. If he does he has nothing left to work it with. And such as this not only injures the purchaser but the entire section where it occurs. Look at Dawson. We understand that they hold their property so high there that it has run capitalists out of the county.

Mr. Briggs, of Briggsdale, O., was one of the committee appointed to visit Dahlonega last week and take back a lot of ore from the dumps at different mines here for the purpose of having it assayed in Columbus, Ohio. Here it will be pounded up finely and turned over to three different uninterested assayers for a test. This is probably to convince some not having visited the mines, who may have some doubts about their rich ness.

Mr. Recor, who came down from Michigan last week, after spending several days in Dahlonega looking after his interests, went up to Cleveland to look over some mining property owned by a friend of his in that state lying in White county. The owner of this property will be down soon and it may be that his visit will result in the property being developed at an early day. A good deal of mining is already going on in our sister county and arrangements are being made for much more.

Mining down at the Singleton last week proved to be very interesting to the large number of visitors who were there at various times during the week. A force of hands was engaged in taking out ore under the supervision of a Georgia miner. The veins are large and very rich. Some times after a blast is made gold can be seen in many rock in streaks almost as long as a man's finger. The property is one of the easiest and cheapest mined in the county. The cost of milling the ore from these veins do not exceed fifteen cents per ton.

In about two weeks the application for the charter of the Standard Gold Mining Co. will have been published the number of times required by law when the charter will be granted and the company will proceed with their work on a large scale. The company's 5,000 acres embraces the Tabloneka, Singleton, Mary Henry, Wimpy and Columbus gold mines, with 500 acres of iron property, all of which are located near Dahlonega. The improvements proposed by the company are the erection of a fifty-stamp mill at the Mary Henry mine, remodeling with heavier and more modern machinery at the Singleton and the erection of a new 120 stamp mill on the Tabloneka. In the addition of the erection of these mills the company will build on their Grindle shanty property on the Chestatee river an electric power station with necessary equipments to transmit the power electrically to the new 120-stamp mill and on the property which the company owns in Dahlonega. They will erect a commissary store and company office. The contracts for the large mills and other improvements will be let in a few weeks.

The management of The Crown Mountain Company are making estimates of the cost of machinery, plant, etc., with the view of beginning work at an early day. This company is moving with more than ordinary caution. Its purpose is to eliminate the possible errors always attendant upon hastily considered enterprises of this character. An up to date plant with the most improved modern machinery is to be put up. Past errors of all companies either in construction or estimates will be studiously avoided. The lowest possible cost and the best and most approved modern methods of operation is to be the steady aim of the company. The personell of the management is a reasonable guarantee of its success. The citizens of our city continue to show faith in this company by purchasing more blocks of its stock.

A large number of extra hands were put to work last Monday by the Consolidated Co. Quite a number of them have been engaged in putting up the electric light posts from the Hand mine to the city, and in a few more weeks main street from the top of college hill to this mine will be ablaze with electric lights down to the mine, a light at each corner of the square and from the Masonic Hall on up Derriek St. to the company's store, and to each of the churches. All this is done at the expense of the Consolidated Co. Now by all means let the city council light up the remainder of the leading streets and do away with all the troublesome lightning bug lamps. In the near future our business men will have an opportunity of lighting up their stores and offices with electricity.

Some few interested parties in the north may begin to be a little impatient at the Consolidated Cos. big mill not being started some time ago but if they will come and see the vast amount of work that has been done and learn the trouble the managers have had in securing the lumber and other material in doing it with, this will all be cleared away. It is not like being on a railroad where any thing any every thing desired can be secured on short notice. Dahlonega is twenty-five miles from Gainesville, the nearest R. R. station from which all machinery has to be hauled on wagons. But the greatest delay was caused by the scarcity of lumber. There are only a few saw mills in this county, and they are very small ones, not being able to turn out lumber as fast as it was needed. There never was such a demand for lumber here before and they were not prepared for it. But we hope that this will not occur again. New saw mill men are moving in now getting ready for the rush.

Frequently we hear of a certain scallawag, who we are sorry that he lives in Dahlonega, saying that he is "going to write up the NUGGET man." Now, the editor of this paper never claimed to be a saint, not yet. Neither is he any kind of a white washed christian. As the negro says he is "just what he is, and he ain't no iser." If we are not pretty enough to have our picture go into the society column of a newspaper, the Lord is responsible. But what about a runt of manhood, who it is reported was forced to marry, talking about "writing" up the NUGGET man or any one else? Let him load his pen and sail in whenever he gets ready and we will endeavor to show the people that he is a venal triolquest but doesn't represent a Punch and Judy show, if he does talk like Punch.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Anderson, who was recently poisoned by eating sardines is improving. He lost his little girl and was in a very dangerous condition awhile himself. This should be a warning to all persons eating canned goods of any kind.

W. M. Turner who moved over in Lumpkin county some time since had the misfortune to get a leg broken a few days ago. This is the second time Mr. Turner has suffered from a broken leg.—Cleveland Courier.
